BECK TOOK OVER SON'S FIRM, TRIED TO GET BREWERY TO EXTEND CREDIT

Anheuser - Busch Officials Say Request Made by Seattle Distributor Was Turned Down.

By THEODORE C. LINK
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters' Union, who is under federal indictment on a charge of income tax evasion, took over actual control of a Seattle beer distributing firm then headed by his son in 1949 and sought to induce Anheuser-Busch officials to extend further credit to the firm for distributing beer in Alaska, the Post-Dispatch learned today.

Brewery officials stated that in June, 1949, K & L Beverage Co. of Seattle, which Dave Beck Jr. then headed, sought 45 days' credit instead of 10 days, but the request was denied.

In 1951, after Irving J. Levine, founder of K&L Beverage, had reassumed control of the firm from the Becks, the brewery here allowed K&L credit up to $50,000. In 1953, when Levine was more firmly entrenched, the credit limit was boosted to $75,000 and in 1954, the year young Beck sold his stock in K&L, the credit limit went up to $100,000.

A spokesman for the brewery said K & L started business with an open line of credit with a limit of $15,000. The $15,000 limit continues until 1949, when the firm was put on a straight c.o.d. or draft-attached-to-bill-of-lading basis.

$89,000 Highest Balance.

The highest balance the distributor ever had at Anheuser-Busch was $89,000, representing a balance on beer in transit, the spokesman contended.

In September 1948, the spokesman said, K & L started distributing beer in Alaska and the following year the company wanted its credit extended from 10 to 45 days. This request was denied.

The request for extended credit, the spokesman continued, came in the form of a letter from Levine, but it could not be granted because of restrictions of the federal Robinson-Patman Act. He denied that Beck Sr. had come to St. Louis to make a similar request.

He contended that neither Beck Sr. nor anyone else ever sought and extension of credit for a delinquent account of K & L during 1948 and 1949. Such a request, the official added, would have been "ridiculous" since no K & L account was delinquent during that period.

All payments by K&L were made satisfactorily and promptly on a 10-day, C.O.D., trade acceptance, or draft-attached-to-bill-of-lading basis, he said, adding that K&L never had a balance due of $100,000 during that period.

The spokesman said that K & L has an open line of credit with the brewery at the present time and all payments are being met promptly. Anheuser-Busch has more than 900 distributors in the United States and none has a franchise agreement. All transactions are on an order-to-order basis, he said.

Paid Off $160,000.

Levine told the Post-Dispatch that in 1954-55, when he was purchasing young Beck's K & L stock, the brewery here froze his account and gave him time to pay off $160,000 K & L owed the brewery. This gave Levine additional funds to buy Beck Jr. out. He said: "I paid that bill in installments, promptly."

Levine said that in 1949 and 1950, the elder Beck was acting

SPILLED TAR POT POURS OUT CHAIN OF HOT TROUBLE

DURANGO, Colo., May 4 (UP)—V. L. Archuleta, an employe of the Reliable Roofers, fell while working on the roof of the Gulf Oil Co.'s downtown office building yesterday, setting off this chain reaction:

The 10-gallon bucket of tar he was carrying spilled its boiling contents onto the roof and a brand new Jeep below, setting them aflame.

Moses Gonzales, Archuleta's assistant, quickly sized up the situation and raced to report the fire. He fell from the roof and injured a leg.

Someone got to a telephone, but the operator passed the alarm to the LaPlata fire volunteers, who answer only calls outside the city.

The volunteers, however, misunderstood the directions and raced off to a Gulf service station north of Durango.

En route they were flagged down by an excited person who pointed out the real fire.

Chief F. E. Violett did not stand by and watch a building burn even though it was outside his territory. It was put out quickly.

Gulf officials estimated damages at $3400.

Archuleta, incidentally, was not hurt.

COMET LOSES ONE TAIL, LEAVES EXPERTS PUZZLED

PASADENA, Calif., May 4 (AP)—Arend-Roland sped on its way out of the solar system today, leaving astronomers a puzzle: the mystery of the comet with two tails.

At its brightest last week, the comet boasted a headlight shining into outer space—a jet of light piercing the sky from the comet's head.

"A comet's tail points away from the sun," explains Dr. Seth Nicholson of Mt. Wilson observatory, near Pasadena. "This comet had a tail pointing away from the sun, but it had another tail, too—a long, slender jet of light pointing toward the sun."

The comet still is visible to the naked eye. It can be seen throughout the northern hemisphere at dusk in the notrhwest sky. But the headlight-like spike of light has vanished.

Dr. Jesse Greenstein of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, theorizes that the material comprising the jet was used up when the comet passed close to the sun.

FINNISH CARGO SHIP SINKS IN ATLANTIC; 28 RESCUED

Coast Guard Cutter Picks Up All of Crew Half Hour Before Sinking.

NEW YORK, May 4 (UP)—A small Finnish cargo ship sank today in the Atlantic between the Azores and Bermuda, the Coast Guard reported. It said a cutter had rescued all 28 in the crew.

The ship, identified as the Bornholf, 3461 gross tons, was en route from Spain to Wilmington, Del. The Coast Guard said the cutter Duane picked up the entire crew about half an hour before the Bornholm sank at 10:15 a.m.

The Duane, on weather pascene after picking up an S O S scene after picking up anS O S from the 342-foot freighter yesterday, saying it was leaking badly.

DULLES ALMOST DISCHARGED HIM, M'LEOD REVEALS

But Later Cleared Him of 'Leak' to Newspaper, Ambassador-Designate Says.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Scott McLeod says Secretary of State John Foster Dulles almost fired him as State Department security officer four years ago because Dulles thought he had "leaked" information to a newspaper.

He said Dulles told him he had authority to fire the security chief as a "security risk because of this leak" to the old Washington Times-Herald. The newspaper had reported McLeod had reservations about the then-pending nomination of Charles E. Bohlen to be Ambassador to Russia.

Under the Administration's security program, a Government employe deemed to have talked too much is subject to dismissal as unreliable.

McLeod told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he had nothing to do with any leak and that Dulles changed his mind about firing him after the Secretary had "satisfied himself . . . that I had nothing to do with this leak."

McLeod's testimony was given to the committee in secret this week while the group was considering his nomination to be Ambassador to Ireland. The transcript was made public yesterday.

Floor Fight Planned.

The committee approved the nomination Thursday, 9 to 6. A group of Democrats who question McLeod's qualifications for the Dublin post say they will carry their fight against his nomination to the Senate floor next week.

The Foreign Relations group also has approved unanimously the transfer of Bohlen from Moscow to be Ambassador to the Philippines. Four years ago, the Senate confirmed his nomination to be Ambassador to Russia, but only after a bitter fight.

In telling the committee about the leak incident, McLeon said Dulles summoned him after the newspaper story had appeared.

McLeod related that Dulles "said he had been authorized to discharge me as a security risk because of this leak that appeared, obviously from me, in the Times-Herald, but he decided not to."

Under questioning by Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem.), of Massachusetts, McLeod said he assumed Dulles got from President Eisenhower the authority to fire him.

However, McLeod said Dulles "ascertained my whereabouts during the critical time" and learned from people "I was with that I did not make any phone calls or talk to anyone or in any way contribute to the leak."

The State Department security chief said he never found the source of the leak to the Times-Herald.

McLeod said he never "rendered any judgment" on Bohlen's trustworthiness, but that

Churchill Portrait Causes Stir; Artist Says He Painted a Sound

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

LONDON, May 4 (AP)—A portrait of Sir Winston Churchill went on display at the Royal Academy yesterday to the vast annoyance of assorted critics, newspapers and Sir Winston.

The artist, big, bearded 47-year-old Ruskin Spear called it "that great big tapioca blob of a head," but hastened to explain: "I painted a sound. I imagined a man saying 'Narzi.'"

The sound is OK, for any student of Churchillian oratory knows that when he said "Nazi" in one of those great wartime speeches it came out "Narzi."

The painting is quite recognizably Churchill at the microphone. The horn-rimmed glasses, the eyes peering over them and the nose could be the property of no one else.

But the great dome of a forehead zooms off through the top of the painting, somewhat like the distortions of one of those trick mirrors in a carnival fun house.

The right side of the face is contorted into something resembling craters or the wrinkles of a relief map.

By the United Press.

Critics also panned a grim-faced new portrait of the Duke of Edinburgh by Italian painter Pietro Annigoni. One Briton wrote he wouldn't like to meet a face like it in the dark.

Annigoni painted him in the royal tradition of three-quarter length, attired in the robes of the Order of Garter.

"It's the sort of expression that might have given Shakespeare a theme," one critic commented.

RAYBURN TELLS DEMOCRATS THAT BUDGET AND TAX CUTS ARE COMING

Speaker Predicts at Party Parley What Congress Will Do — Spending Slash Put at 3 to 5 Billion.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn told a group of Democratic governors today Congress is going to cut President Eisenhower's budget and give the people a tax cut that will help everybody.

The Texan was quoted as having added that Congress hopes to cut from three to five billion dollars out of the spending budget of $71,800,000,000 "without hurting the country." He did not set a time for a tax cut.

Rayburn talked informally at a breakfast attended by eight Democratic governors, here for a party conference sponsored by the Democratic National Committee, and a few Democrats in Congress.

The breakfast was closed to reporters. Sam Brightman, Democratic National Committee publicity chief, gave them an account of what happened.

"Most Inept" Administration.

Rayburn was quoted as saying he had served in Washington under seven Presidents and conisdered the Eisenhower Administration the "most inept and most partisan" he had ever seen.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York told a reporter he spoke of a "definite swing" toward the Democrats in recent village elections in New York. He added that the "fine leadership of Democrats in Congress who exposed the hoax of modern Republicanism was helping turn the people back to the Democratic party in New York State."

Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota reportedly brought a laugh from the breakfast gathering when he said he had heard a rumor that if Mr. Eisenhower went on television and radio to defend his budget the Republicans would ask for equal time to reply. Freeman obviously was referring to Republicans in both houses who have criticized the size of the Eisenhower budget.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler commented that if the Republicans did not ask for equal time the Democats would.

Other governors present were George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Ernest McFarland of Arizona, Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

Members of Congress present beside Rayburn were Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, House majority leader; Representative Cabe Albert of Oklahoma, assistant leader; Representative Hale Boggs of Louisiana, a National Committee vice chairman, and Senators George A. Smathers of Florida and Clinton Anderson of New Mexico.

Truman at Gathering.

Former President Truman attended the breakfast but did not speak.

Party bigwigs, meeting here for three days of strategy sessions and a fund-raising dinner, sought to avoid any clashes over civil rights which have strained Democratic ties in the past.

Representative Wright Patman of Texas said the Republicans had inaugurated "the greatest manipulation of interest rates and credit the world has ever seen."

Patman, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said this in remarks prepared for a round-table discussion with Democratic governors.

In another talk prepared for

LATEST RUSSIAN JETS REPORTED IN EAST GERMANY

BERLIN, May 4 (AP)—Communist East Germany claimed yesterday its new air force has been outfitted by Russia with the lastest Soviet jet fighter—the MIG-19.

Western experts expressed surprise at the range of new Russian weapons displayed by the East German army during nationwide May Day parades.

Although Hungary and Poland showed how satellite armies can turn on their Soviet masters, Russia appears to have decided to turn the 100,000-man East German armed force into an effective fighting machine. The Communists describe the East German build-up as "a reply to the transformation of West Germany into a NATO atomic base."

East Berlin's Communist newspaper B. Z. am Abend published photographs of high flying sweptwing MIG jets passing over Dresden and identified them as the "latest jet type MIG-19." Westerners did not rule out the possibility that Russian pilots were at the controls.

Until recently the 10,000-man East German air force boasted nothing more than a few dozen outmoded MIG-15s.

EGYPT IS LINKED TO TERRORISTS' PLOT TO MURDER SAUD OF ARABIA

Armed Cells Reported Discovered in Capital City of Riyadh — Many Non-Arabians Being Deported.

By SAM POPE BREWER
© New York Times News Service.

BEIRUT, May 4—Egypt has been linked with a plot to assassinate King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

A reliable source with Saudi connections confirmed reports that armed terrorist cells were discovered last month in Riyadh, Saud's capital, plotting under the direction of Egyptians. The members were mostly former Palestinians, but there were Saudi Arabians involved.

Full details are not yet available, but on April 21 Saudi security police made raids, arrested an unspecified number of persons and found automatic weapons, grenades and explosives.

Prisoners confessed the existence of terrorist plots.

Broken by Lebanese Press.

The story was told in part yesterday and the day before by the Lebanese press, but King Saud was not mentioned by name. The report said simply "assassinations" were being planned.

Wholesale deportations of Egyptians and ex-Palestinians from Saudi Arabia have been going on since then. The King apparently preferred that to prosecutions that would have embittered relations among the Arab countries.

An unconfirmed report published here is that the cells were found to be under the direction of an Egyptian military attache, Col. Ali Khashaba. In any case, the Egyptian connection was proved.

One purpose of the visit to Saudi Arabia last week by President Shukri Kuwatly of Syria was reported to have been to carry assurances from Egyptian President Gamai Abdel Nasser that he had no knowledge of the plot. Kuwalty was accompanied by Col. Anwar Sadat of the Islamic congress, one of Nasser's principal anti-Western propagandists, and Sheikh Abdel Latif Baqouri, Egyptian minister of welfare.

Egyptian military attaches all through the Middle East have indulged in extracurricular activities which have seriously strained relations with all Arab countries unwilling to accept Hasser's leadership without question.

Officer in Disguise.

To cite a few outstanding cases, there was Mohammed Ali Issa, "messenger" of the Egyptian military attache's office in Baghdad. He was found to be an Egyptian officer in disguise and convicted in January of last year of a plot to assassinate Iraqi leaders.

To save finer-Arab relations, King Faisal pardoned him.

Last November there was a series of bombings of British and French establishments in Beirut in protest against the British-French invasion of Egypt.

Acting on a tip, police made an excuse to search the car of an Egyptian assistant military attache and found high explosives, fuses and detonators. Again for the sake of Arab amity, he was allowed to leave the country without fuss.

More recently as tension built up here between pro-Egyptian opposition members and the more moderate element now ruling Lebanon, Egyptian Ambassador Brigadier Abdel Hamid Ghaleb was publicly accused in the press of conspiring with the opposition and of trying to persuade some government supporters in Parliament to vote against co-operation with the United States.

Egyptian Killed.

Last summer the Egyptian military attache in Amman, Jordan, died of wounds received when he opened a bomb sent to him by parcel post. That incident never was cleared up though the official hypothesis was that the bomb—sent from the Arab of Jerusalem—had been mailed by an Israeli agent.

The military attache was generally believed to be directing "fedayeen" raiders (Arab guerrillas) working from Jordan into Israel. He, like his colleagues in other countries, was believed to be working for Egyptian interests as against those of Jordan.

The cells raided in Saudi Arabia were formed originally

NORSTAD CONSIDERING CUT IN NATO TROOP STRENGTH AS A-WEAPONS INCREASE

MAY PARE HIS DEMANDS FOR MINIMUM OF 30 DIVISIONS

Meanwhile, Alliance Warns Russia West Will Meet Aggression With Atomic Retaliation.

BONN, May 4 (UP) — The North Atlantic alliance's supreme commander, Gen. Lauris Norstad, may pare his demand for a minimum of 30 divisions ready to defend Western Europe, an authoritative source said today.

The source said Norstad's estimate that 30 divisions are an absolute necessity is not irrevocable. He may reduce it when tactical atomic weapons and guided missiles are delivered to him in substantial numbers.

Norstad now is reviewing the whole question of allied strength in the nuclear weapon and rocket era, the source said. The results of the review will be handed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council of Ministers at its next session later this year. It will form the basis of a top-level decision on the number of troops and weapons, conventional and nuclear, now needed on the European continent to back NATO's stand against Sovie aggression.

That stand was spelled ou in a communique issued las night at the end of the council' two-day meeting here.

Atomic Retaliation.

The foreign ministers of th 15 NATO nations declared the were unified in their determination to answer any Soviet aggression with atomic as well a conventional retaliation.

Britain's decision to cut it own NATO forces by 13,000 wa examined during the council session. An authoritative source said no attempt was made t get Britain to change this decision. The source said the results of Norstad's review woul decide whether Britain's NATO allies will accept its decision or exert pressure on it to mak no further cuts.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, before leaving fo Paris, met with Chancello Adenauer for a discussion o West Germany's position in th East-West cold war of atomi threats and warnings.

While they were in conference a Soviet Embassy courie arrived at the chancellery an delivered a note from Ambassador Andrei Smirnov.

It was Moscow's reply to sharp note last week fror Adenauer, who told Russi West Germany does not possess atomic weapons and ha not asked for any.

Decision Postponed.

The NATO foreign minister postponed until their next meeting a final decision on supplying West Germany and othe continental NATO member with tactical atomic weapons.

Dulles, it was learned, argued in the council session tha the decisive factor in Europea defense was not the numbe of troops maintained by th West in Europe but the weapon in their possession and thei ability to use those weapons.

Dulles was said to have tol the council that relatively smal numbers of highly traine troops equipped with the mos modern weapons would be abl to counter an attack on th West.

In its communique the council said the West was ready t carry out a disarmament program any time Russia will accept adequate disarmament controls.

The communique warne that the West would respond t any Soviet attack "with al available means." The warnin served as a joint reply to Soviet atomic threats against number of the NATO member

Cold War Policy.

Without reaching any startling new decisions, the counci made it plain that its cold wa policy remains to:

Maintain a powerful deterrent in the form of both conventional and nuclear weapon which it would use unhesitatingly to halt a Communist attack.

Reject flatly all Soviet attempts to intimidate NAT members into refraining fro equipping themselves with tactical A-weapons.

Negotiate a general disarmament agreement with Moscow provided the Soviets accept th controls the West regards a indispensable.

"Pending an acceptabl agreement on disarmament, n power can claim the right t deny to the alliance the possession of the modern arms neede for its defense," the communique said.

The communique made thes other main points:

GENERAL POSTAL RATE INCREASE TO BE REQUESTED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield said yesterday he would ask Congress for a general postal rate hike in the next week or two and predicted quick approval.

The Postmaster General, who arrived here for the Kentucky Derby accompanied by his wife and Senator Homer Capehart (Rep.), Indiana, said the "next few weeks will see a rate increase."

He said that he would ask for a one-cent boost in both first class and air mail rates. Summerfield said a two-cent increase in first class rates would go further in wiping out the Post Office Department's operating deficit but no such request was planned at this time.

He said boosts also would be asked in second and third class mail rates without specifying what these would be. The general rate boost, Summerfield said, would bring in about $460,000,000 a year, about $200,000,000 short of putting operations in the black.

PRESIDENT PLAYS GOLF FOR FIFTH TIME IN WEEK

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 4 (INS) — President Eisenhower, spending the weekend at his Gettysburg farm, played his fifth round of golf in a week today, on the third different course in that seven-day period.

Mr. Eisenhower started off with rounds Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Augusta, Ga., added nine holes Thursday at Burning Three Golf Club in Maryland, and played this morning at the Gettysburg Country Club course.

The President's foursome today included George Allen and retired Brig. Gen. Arthur Nevins, Gettysburg neighbors, and Dick Sleichter, pro at the nine-hole Gettysburg course. Gen. Alfred Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, went along as a spectator.

Mr. Eisenhower plans to return to Washington late Sunday.

DUTCH TALK BACK TO RUSSIA

THE HAGUE, May 4 (AP)—The Netherlands told Moscow yesterday it would not be forced from the goal of European integration "through vague Soviet plans or implied threats of nuclear retaliation."

The Foreign Ministry, in a reply to a Soviet statement of March 16, denied the treaties for a European common market and an atomic community are instruments of aggression.

Dimout Affects Area of 1,100,000 Persons and Burns Out Hundreds of Motors.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4 (AP) — Hundreds of washing machine, dryer and refrigerator motors lay dead in San Francisco peninsula homes today, burned out in yesterday's freak power fade-out.

A Navy attack bomber, hedgehopping through a canyon in the East bay near Niles, cut two 220,000-volt power lines, strung 500 feet above the canyon floor. Immediately power sagged or failed in San Francisco and south 50 miles to San Jose through an area of 1,100,000 persons. The dimout lasted for 20 minutes to more than an hour.

Navy Lt. Harry M. Nyberg, of Berkeley, Calif., on a routine low-level practice mission, said there was an explosion when his plane cut the lines. It affected the trim of his plane but he flew it to nearby Alameda naval air station.

Nyberg was not injured. The collision bent the right propeller out of line and knifed a few inches into the right wing.

Across the bay the effects were confusion compounded. Motors stopped or slowed. Radio stations broadcast slow-motion gibberish as turntables slowed. TV stations went off the air after their picture transmissions faded.

Elevators stopped between floors, but enough power came through to get them to floor levels. Dentists' drills slowed, then the motors started smoking. So did motors in hundreds of home electrical appliances.

Traffic signals blinked off and police rushed to strategic intersections to handle jams. Streetcars and trolley busses were immobilized. Teletypes stopped clacking. At International Airport the radio tower was out and planes were landed by hand-operated light signals. Telephone circuits were jammed with calls.

A Pacific Gas & Electric Co. spokesman explained why so many motors burned out: "When voltage drops, amperage kicks higher than normal. This produces the heat that burns out an appliance."

U.S. SENDING 8 JET PLANES TO TRAIN SAUDI ARABIANS

First to Be Turned Over to Military Training Mission There.

WIESBADEN, Germany, May 4 (AP)—The United States Air Force said today it is transferring eight T-33 jet training planes to Saudi Arabia for training of that country's air force.

An Air Force spokesman said the planes were the first to be turned over to the United States military training mission in Saudi Arabia.

The planes left this morning from the Air Force base at Furstenfeldbruck, near Munich, for Dhahran air field in Saudi Arabia.

Kansas City Zoo Has Animal Act Operating on Slot Machine Basis

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 4 (AP)—A duck, a rabbit and two hens will put on a show for you at Kansas City's Swope Park Zoo—if you put a dime in a slot. They have learned that a dime makes a signal that means they will get food if they do their little acts.

Desmon, the duck, will beat a bass drum with its beak.

Romeo, the rabbit, will smooch a plastic model of a little girl rabbit until an electric light turns on and makes it blush.

Isabel, a white hen, will play a game that looks like baseball.

Penelope, another hen, will hand you a postcard.

While the team is on duty there are five other hens, three other ducks and three other rabbits awaiting turns on stage. Each team is relieved after an hour or two of work.

The educated poultry and animal act was developed by a Hot Springs (Ark.) firm which also has a concession at the Fort Worth (Tex.) zoo.

Out of 10 dimes dropped in the slots, the firm gets six and the city four.

SYMINGTON SEES DANGER IN RED DRIVE TO SPLIT U.S. AND ALLIES

He Warns Again of 'Perilous Waste' by Failure to Achieve True Unification of Military Services.

By BRIG. GEN. THOMAS R. PHILLIPS, U.S.A. (Ret.)
Military Analyst of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 4—"The people of the United States today may well be in mortal danger," Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), Missouri said in New York last night at the annual Brand Names Foundation dinner, in an unusually forthright address.

"That danger" he continued, "is less one of imminent enemy attack on our continental homeland, or even our foreign bases, than it is a persistent, merciless campaign to break us away from our friends and allies, to polarize Africa, the Middle East and Asia against us; and to take advantage of the known weaknesses in the United Nations Charter in order to isolate our position in the world of nations."

Reports on European Trip.

Symington's address embodied what he had discovered in a recent trip to Europe about our standing with our allies on East-West trade and our actions in the Middle East, together with his ideas of the final effect on the solvency of the United States if it continues to allow service rivalries to dictate the "waste of billions of dollars in the building and maintenance of weapons we do not need."

"I shall address myself," he declared, "specifically to three areas of national policy which appear of overriding importance to the safety, sovereignty and supremacy of this nation.

"If we realized the benefits which could be gained through true unification of the services," he said, "our federal budget could be balanced and our taxes heavily cut.

"For some reason, however," he said, "we cannot force ourselves to face and overcome the haunting unpleasantness, and heavy cost, of interservice rivalries.

Where Savings Lie.

"The greatest savings would not be in manpower," he continued. "They would result from a thorough weapons system evaluation. Such an evaluation . . . would enable us to stop the business of piling unnecessary cost upon unnecessary cost . . . We are reducing the production of vitally needed defense items at the same time we waste billions of dollars in the building and maintenance of weapons we do not need.

"Unless we do break it (service bureaucracy) down," Symington declared, "we will continue to pay billions more in tribute to doctrinal quackery—and as technology steadily increases the cost of defense, this refusal to face up to the modern military facts of life may end in taxing ourselves out of the free enterprise system."

Symington closed this subject by quoting Representative George Mahon (Dem.), Texas, to the effect that "service rivalry has now gotten out of hand. It's very unwholesome and very wasteful and I think something should be done about it."

Mahon, Symington said, added that legislation probably would be required and that President Eisenhower could provide the impetus, if he could find time to take a personal interest in the problem.

Self-Delusion.

With reference to East-West trade, Symington said that we are deluding ourselves if we think that "this country is subjecting our possible enemies to effective discipline."

"One leaves Europe," he declared, "with the conviction that our friends and allies are going to concentrate on East-West trade as never before."

His conclusion was: "Whether or not we intend to sell to these countries, our friends and allies are selling to them in heavy quantity; and intend to expand that trade."

Symington cast doubt on the validity of our theory in trying to prevent such trade. "Is there not credibility in the assumption," he asked, "that Red China may be no more inextricably tied to Soviet domination and control than were Hungary and Poland; and that, at least to some extent, this might be proved, relieving the Red Chinese of their dependence upon Russia for vitrually all their needs?"

Our Own Self-Interest.

He declared "that this is said out of no love or respect for the ruthless men running the Asiatic dictatorship, but rather in recognition of what may indeed be in our own self-interest."

"There was a time," he continued, "when to attempt public discussion of this subject was to invite the charge of sympathy toward Communism. It is truly astonishing how, by inexplicable resignation and a sort of sodden consent, such great questions as East-West trade have become one of the facts of life discussed only out behind the barn in the United States."

Symington found a bitter reaction in Europe to our stand on the Middle East. "Why," one Briton asked him, "was your pressure against Israel, France and ourselves so much greater than your pressure against the Soviet at the time they crushed Hungary?"

If he answered that we felt they should have gone to the United Nations, his friend replied: "Then how do you justify moving your Sixth Fleet without even submitting that action to the U.N.; a fleet which you have advertised has on board hundreds of ground soldiers—and which presumably also carries aboard atomic weapons?"

Germans Worried.

He had no satisfactory answer, Symington admitted. Symington found the Germans worried about the strength of the NATO shield and apprehensive about reductions of the forces in Europe. "The German people and their responsible leaders believe implicitly that the future of Germany is embodied in the future of NATO," he discovered.

"Is it not paradoxical," he asked, "that, as today Congress is faced with an unprecedented hue and cry to cut the budget, it is clear the NATO shield may turn into a paper shield, unless the United States contributes even more of its wealth to the protection of those nations who were so severely damaged by the position this Government took in the Middle East?"

"I say again," Symington proclaimed, as he completed his address, "this Administration must start establishing policies which create events, instead of continuing to let events create our policies."

"Some day, somewhere, we must take a stand — because there is one thing more important than peace—and that is liberty."

Critical of Dulles.

By the Associated Press.

Symington said of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles:

"It is ironical that the man speaking for the United States tonight in Bonn, Germany—the frontier of NATO—is that American in whom these nations, our Allies, have the least confidence.

"Perhaps when Mr. Dulles emphasizes the importance of first taking things up with the United Nations, he will also explain a statement this week by one of our highest officials that our troops were all ready to enter Jordan, 'completely ready,' and that our airlift was ready, 'waiting for that purpose.'"

Symington did not identify the official.

TASS DENOUNCES M'CARTHY, SAYS HE 'SOWED FEAR'

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

MOSCOW, May 4—The death of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, (Rep.), Wisconsin, was reported here yesterday together with a bitter attack on his career.

In a dispatch datelined Washington, the official Tass news agency furnished one of the most violent obituaries seen here in recent years. It said:

"With the name of this arrant reactionary is connected such phenomena in American life as McCarthyism—a brutal offensive against progressive forces and labor organizations in the United States.

"By baiting, terrorizing and persecuting all who oppose the rule of a handful of multi-millionaires, McCarthyism sows throughout the land an atmosphere of fear and anti-Communist hysteria. It facilitates the execution of the most reactionary anti-peoples' policies domestically and the preparation of new military adventures."

The Tass bureau in Washington, which purportedly wrote the obituary, employs both Soviet and American citizens. Several Americans in its employ were investigated by a congressional committee last year and took refuge behind the Fifth Amendment.

AUSTRIANS WILL ELECT NEW PRESIDENT TOMORROW

VIENNA, May 4 (AP)—Austrians vote tomorrow for a new president. They will choose between Adolf Schaerf, Socialist vice chancellor in Austria's coalition government, and Dr. Wolfgang Denk, a retired university professor and well-known surgeon.

For weeks the two men have been touring the country to seek votes for the six-year office left vacant by the death of Theodor Koerner last January.

The presidency has powers under the constitution but actually the No. 1 man in the country is the Chancellor, as head of the federal government. The President does little but conduct ceremonies and receptions and hand out medals and awards.

SURPLUS FOOD SALE EXPANSION GAINS

House Committee Votes to Make an Extra $1,300,000,000 Worth Available.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Authority for the United States to make an additional $1,300,000,000 of surplus food stocks available to friendly nations was voted yesterday by the House Agriculture Committee.

But the committee again refused to approve Administration requests to lift the bar against bartering food with Red satellite countries.

By its action yesterday, the committee:

1. Added a billion dollars to existing authority for the sale of farm surpluses for foreign curencies, and extended the program another year to June 30, 1958.

2. Added $300,000,000 to present authority for emergency relief gifts of surplus food to friendly nations, extending this program another year also.

The committee's action moved nearer to consummation a tentative agreement with Poland for a $95,000,000 United States aid program, of which about $65,000,000 would be surplus farm commodities, mostly cotton and wheat.

The Polish aid would come under the law providing for disposal of surplus commodities for foreign currencies.

There remains a question of what use will be made of the Polish currency. Proceeds of such sales may be used only for payment of United States obligations in the recipient nation, to promote "collective" military strength and economic development, or otherwise foster United States foreign policy. There is no normal United States trade with Poland nor much other financial contact.

The additional billion dollars of authority to sell surpluses for foreign currencies increases the total authorization to four billion. Total relief gift authority would be increased to $800,000,000.

The committee inferentially left the door open for action later on a restricted program of surplus food barter with some Reds.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley (Dem.), North Carolina, said it "might be possible" if limitations are included to spell out those satellite Communist nations with which barter would be barred under any circumstances. He named Red China, North Korea and North Viet Nam in particular.

Plot on Saud

with the idea of carrying on subversive work under Saudi-Egyptian auspices in Bahrein, Kuwait and other Arab areas dominated by the British.

After King Saud became wary of Nasser's close association with the Communist bloc and especially after the King's visit to the United States, they were supposed to have been disbanded.

King Saud has decided on a middle-of-the-road policy rather than Nasser's pro-Soviet "neutralist" policy. According to Arab sources, Nasser assured Saud the cells had been broken up but, in fact, continued to supply them with equipment and plot with them to support Egypt's interests.

Experience for 3 Kings.

All three Arab Kings, Hussein of Jordan, Faisal of Iraq and Saud, now have had experience of the disruptive influence of the Egyptians in their countries and of the consequent threat to their thrones.

In a recent crisis in Jordan, Nasser did not succeed in getting serious reaction from the mob when Hussein acted against the pro-Egyptian and pro-Soviet elements. But the Egyptian radio has continued to incite them and that crisis may recur.

By overreaching himself, Nasser appears to have weakened his neutralist bloc.

King Saud has moved away from him and pledged support to King Hussein. Hussein has taken great risks but apparently won out in efforts to subdue pro-Nasser forces in Jordan.

King Faisal, who always was opposed to the Nasser bloc, seems to have strengthened his position with Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

The Lebanese are increasingly annoyed by Egyptian activities and less inclined than ever to co-operate with Nasser.

SENATORS LOOK INTO STEEL UNION HEAD'S ELECTION

Mundt Says Issue Is Whether McDonald Used Group's Funds in Campaign.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Senator Karl E. Mundt (Rep.), South Dakota, says the Senate rackets committee is looking into circumstances surrounding David J. McDonald's re-election as president of the United Steelworkers.

Mundt, a member of the committee, said yesterday the investigation by committee staff members is designed to determine whether union funds were used to finance McDonald's recent campaign for another term in the union office.

Meanwhile, the committee prepared for another session next Wednesday with Dave Beck, Teamsters union president. In his last appearance before the investigators, Beck declined to answer questions about his handling of union funds. He repeatedly invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination.

Beck Indictment.

Beck was indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury at Tacoma, Wash., on two counts of income tax evasion. Attorney General Herbert Brownell said last night the Justice Department is ready to prosecute Beck as soon as a trial date is set.

Brownell added the Government's investigation of Beck's affairs would continue. The Teamsters chief posted $5000 bond here yesterday pending an arraignment May 13.

A Teamster spokesman said that Attorney Edward Bennett Williams has been retained to appear with Beck next Wednesday. Williams is also the attorney for James R. Hoffa of Detroit, Teamster vice president under indictment on charges of conspiracy to bribe a Senate committee investigator. Former Senator James H. Duff (Rep.), has dropped Beck as a client.

After Mundt reported the committee was checking into the Steelworkers election, another source said complaints about McDonald's election had been received from Berwick, Pa.

Re-elected 2 to 1.

The union chief defeated Donald C. Rarick, a union member who was not nationally known before he tried for the top Steelworkers post. McDonald defeated him by about two to one.

McDonald has written the committee there is "no corruption in our union" and that the organization will co-operate in any investigation.

There were reports, also, that the committee might look into two other matters, the recent strike against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and the conduct of some union leaders and mine operators in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania.

Indictments Mount to 69 in Portland Vice Inquiry.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 4 (AP)—A grand jury investigating vice ran its score to 69 indictments today and told Portland it still has a long way to go before corruption can be wpied out here.

The busiest of four grand juries to investigate vice in the last year, the jury submitted two final indictments and a long report critical of District Attorney William Langley, Mayor Terry Schrunk and local police.

Langely has been convicted of failing to prosecute gamblers. He faces six other indictments. Schrunk face five.

In a surprise move the grand jury also recommended that Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton of Oregon, named last year to conduct the vice investigations, be replaced in the inquiry.

"The appalling inability of our Attorney General to perceive the emergent public need for forceful action . . . has been increasingly evident to us," the report said.

The report wound up nine weeks of work. It was delivered to the presiding state circuit court judge in Portland, Charles W. Redding. The jury presented a list of steps it said Thornton had failed to take.

The jury recommended that the Oregon State Bar draw up a list of attorneys competent to take over, and that the Governor appoint one to head the vice investigation.

Ironically, while the grand jury was preparing this report, Thornton was in Salem at a legislative hearing, testifying against proposals to do away with grand juries or restrict their freedom.

"I am a believer in the grand jury system," Thornton said.

There have been more than 100 indictments against more than 40 persons in the year-long investigation, but the grand jury said, "there is considerable evidence of wrongdoing yet to be uncovered."

Narcotics and prostitution should be high on the list of the next grand jury, the report said, adding, "the interrelation of underworld characters and the overlap of criminal activity indicate to us the existence of a substantial traffic in narcotics and its coexistent evil, commercialized prostition."

The report spoke of "gross misuses" of law enforcement machinery "by the misalliance of District Attorney Langley and Mayor (and former sheriff) Schrunk."

Langley still is in office, despite his conviction, while his attorneys argue for an appeal.

Schrunk, who has not come to trial, and Langley assert they are being framed by Gambler James B. (Big Jim) Elkins because they would not protect his activities.

It was Elkins's story a year ago, accusing Langley, Schrunk and others of having a hand in Portland vice, that started the investigation. Elkins repeated his story before the Senate rackets committee earlier this year.

ENTITLED TO DAY IN COURT, BECK TELLS UNION AIDS

'If You Can Find Anyone Who Can Do Better Job, Elect Him,' Says Teamster Boss.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 4 (AP)—Teamsters chief Dave Beck was quoted as telling a regional meeting of his union yesterday that "if you find anyone who can do a better job than I have done, go ahead and elect him."

A Teamsters spokesman said Beck made the statement at a closed meeting of about 50 leaders of the Teamsters Eastern Conference. The conference covers 15 Eastern states from South Carolina northward, and five Canadian provinces.

The head of the powerful Teamsters union arrived at Philadelphia's International Airport after posting $5000 bond in Washington, D.C., on two charges of income tax evasion. He was driven from the airport to the Traymore hotel here.

Asked if he had any comment on his indictment, Beck replied: "Not a thing."

Later a Teamsters spokesman said Beck mentioned nothing specific about the charges leveled against him or about his invoking the Fifth Amendment before the Senate investigating committee.

Two-Count Indictment.

A grand jury at Tacoma, Wash., returned a two-count indictment against Beck Thursday. One count charges him with failure to report $88,828 of 1950 income on which additional taxes of $55,420 should have been paid.

The second count charges Beck with assisting in preparation of a false tax return for the Teamsters' Joint Council No. 28 Building Association in Seattle, also in 1950.

Each of the counts carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

(The Seattle Times reported it has learned that Beck's trial will not be held until late fall or early 1958, and that investigation of Beck's income for years since 1950 is continuing.)

The spokesman quoted Beck as telling the meeting: "Every man is entitled to his day in court. Many men before have been charged to the point where everyone wanted to dump them, and later these same men were acquitted . . . I merely want to be judged on what's been done for the international during my administration."

Reference to Suspension.

In an apparent reference to his suspension by the AFL-CIO, Beck was quoted as saying:

"Never before in history have we seen labor cloak itself in constitutional authority to take over the international.

"The President of the United States, no matter how much he dislikes a governor, couldn't kick him out.

"I as general president of the union can't boot out a vice president. Democratic processes call for filing of charges in the executive board. You have to give the vice president a chance to be heard and go through the whole process of a trial."

Beck will be given a hearing May 20 on his suspension as one of the AFL-CIO's vice presidents.

BORDER DISPUTE MISSION DUE IN HONDURAS TODAY

TEGUCIGALPA, May 4 (UP)—A five-nation fact-finding team arrives here today to try to solve a border dispute between Honduras and Nicaragua before it blows up into an all-out Centraal American war.

The committee, sent by the Organization of American States in Washington, stopped over in Panama last night and was due to arrive in Honduras today.

There were no new reports of border clashes and the two nations appeared to be holding their fire at least until the committee completes its inquiry.

It will spend three days here and then go to Managua, capital of Nicaragua, for another three days before reporting to the OAS council in Washington.

The mission is headed by Panama Ambassador Ricardo M. Arias and includes United States Ambassador John C. Drier, Mexican Ambassador Luis Quintanilla, Argentine Ambassador Eduardo Augusto Garcia and Bolivian Ambassador Victor Andrade.

Official sources denied a claim by Nicaragua that Nicaraguan troops had recaptured Mocoron, a settlement in the disputed territory along the Caribbean sea.

Anti-Dictator Disorders Erupt In Colombia as Crisis Deepens

Big-Scale Demonstrations Put On by Students—Generals Said to Consider Forming Junta.

By TAD SZULC
© New York Times News Service.

BOGOTA, May 4 — Large-scale student demonstrations against the government broke out in Bogota and several other Colombian cities yesterday.

They came as the political crisis in the country deepened, and the ouster of Lt. Gen. Rojas Pinilla, Colombia's dictator, in a day or two became a distinct possibility.

Indications were that army generals were considering the establishment of a military junta to replace President Rojas.

Informed speculation pointed to Gen. Rafael Navas Pardo, the commander of the army, and Gen. Luis Ordonez, the chief of the secret police, as as potential leaders of a junta movement.

Gen. Rojas announced the appointment of six new generals, apparently in a move to assure himself of military loyalties, but it was felt in many quarters that even this was too late.

No Police or Army Action.

It was significant that neither the police nor the army intervened in Bogota when thousands of students at the government's National University demonstrated against Gen. Rojas. They demanded his ouster and smashed his portraits in campus buildings.

Lucio Pabon Nunez, chief political adviser and ally of Rojas, was reported to have resigned from the chairmanship of the National Constituent and Legislative Assembly. He also was reported to have resigned from the assembly itself. He was expected to fly to New York on Monday.

Pabon, probably the most powerful politician in Colombia and minister of government until last fall, is the architect of a plan for Gen. Rojas's re-election for another presidential term beginning in 1958.

The assembly was to have voted for the president's re-election two days ago, but the developing crisis forestalled it.

It was this re-election maneuver that was at the root of the crisis. The Roman Catholic Church opposes it and so do important segments of the nation, such as the banks and industries. Colombia's deteriorating economic situation and the fast-rising cost of living were among the reasons for opposition to a new term for President Rojas.

Actually, his term does not expire until August of next year, but the president was eager to assure himself of a new term before matters got completely out of hand.

Reason for Break.

According to reliable reports, Pabon broke with the president because Gen. Rojas had asked him to use his influence with the church to win its assent to the re-election plan, and had threatened reprisals if the church refused to agree.

Another reason was said to be Gen. Rojas's insistence that a general be named the "designado" or vice president, for the next term. Pabon and his civilian friends wanted a civilian in that position.

Pabon has pleaded the need for a medical check-up as the reason for his sudden decision to leave the country at this criticel time.

The weakness of the Rojas regime also was seen in the fact that it had canceled plans for a mass rally here next Saturday in support of the president.

The student demonstrations grew out of a strike called Thursday in universities and high schools throughout the country in protest against the detention by the army in Cali, in southwestern Colombia, of Dr. Guillermo Leon Valencia, the opposition candidate for president.

He was nominated last month by the Liberal and Conservative parties, but the government did not allow him any form of campaigning.

Twenty-eight professors at the National University signed a declaration that they would abstain from teaching in protest against the detention of Dr. Valencia.

(The Associated Press said Valencia was reported to have been released last night.)

Scott McLeod

he accepted "without any equivocation" a ruling by Dulles that Bohlen was completely loyal.

An avowed anti-Communist, McLeod has been charged by his critics with hurting State Department morale in his efforts to ferret out security risks.

He told the committee that during the four years he has been in charge of department security, only three employes had been fired on ground that they had "participated in the affairs of Communist organizations to a degree warranting their forced separation." He did not name the employes.

He mentioned diplomat John Paton Davies, who was discharged after a negative ruling on Davies's judgment and reliability. Davies was found not to be disloyal.

McLeod added that five other workers were fired because of reasons "affecting the national security," but not because of subversion.

McLeod restated that, as far as he knows, there are no Communists now in the department.

Norman Case.

By the United Press.

McLeod told the Senators he took "full responsibility" for the action of an aid in approving publication by Senate investigators of certain testimony about Canadian diplomat Herbert E. Norman. Norman later committed suicide.

McLeod said his deputy, Robert F. Cartwright, cleared the testimony while he was out of the country. But he said, "I assume full responsibility for anything he did."

As for charges that he fed derogatory information about Bohlen to Senators opposing the Bohlen nomination in 1953, McLeod said, "The Secretary satisfied himself . . . that I had nothing to do with supplying any information about Mr. Bohlen to any member of the Senate."

McLeod conceded, however, that he had not "cleared" Bohlen. "The Secretary did that," he said.

CZECH-SYRIA TRADE PACT

VIENNA, May 4 (AP) — Czechoslovakia and Syria yesterday signed a trade agreement, the Prague radio reported.

The agreement, for three years, provides for the export of Czech industrial products, including cars, tractors and consumer goods in exchange for Syrian grain, cotton and other agricultural products.

500 MOURNERS PASS M'CARTHY'S CASKET

It Is Flanked by Two Marines — Funeral to Be Held Monday.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—About 500 persons filed through a funeral home last night to view the body of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

The caket was flanked by two Marines, and a folded American flag lay on a pew at the foot of the casket.

Some wept as they viewed the body of the controversial Wisconsin Republican who died Thursday of a liver ailment.

Senator McCarthy's body will lie in state at the funeral home through Sunday. After a service in the Senate chamber Monday morning the body will be flown to Appleton, Wis., for services and burial Tuesday.

Preceding the Senate service, a high mass will be celebrated at St. Matthew's Cathedral Monday morning by the most Rev. Patrick O'Boyle, Catholic archbishop of Washington.

Mrs. McCarthy has asked that, in lieu of flowers, contributions be sent to the New York Foundling Home. It was from this home that the McCarthys adopted a little girl in January.

Most of those who visited the funeral home last night were elderly. The group included two Senators, Edward Thye (Rep.), Minnesota, and J. Allen Frear Jr. (Dem.), Delaware.

One woman repeatedly told those approaching the casket: "People were a little bit too late showing how they felt. Here we are—flags at half mast, even at the White House."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday flying the flag at half staff was "automatic" when a member of Congress died. Flags were displayed in that fashion at the White House as well as at President Eisenhower's farm home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Relations between Mr. Eisenhower and Senator McCarthy had been cool for some time, and of late the Senator had not been invited to White House functions.

Mr. Eisenhower designated an assistant, I. Jack Martin, as his representative at the Senate services Monday.

Meantime, former Senator Herman Welker, an Idaho Republican, said yesterday in Boise he thinks the 1954 Senate censure of Senator McCarthy's conduct contributed to his death. Welker said "Joe was never physically the same" after the censure.

3-STATE MEETING HERE SUPPORTS TEAMSTER UNION POLICIES, CHIEFS

Hoffa Tells Regional Leaders Reuther and Others Seek to 'Take Over' Their Organization.

Representatives of about 100,000 Teamsters Union members in three Midwestern states adopted here yesterday a resolution supporting national policies of the union and its officers in the face of a hearing Monday that could lead to expulsion of the big union from the AFL-CIO.

The resolution was adopted at a meeting at Hotel Kingsway at which James R. Hoffa, Teamsters vice president, named Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, as one of a group of labor leaders Hoffa accused of trying to "take over" the Teamsters organization.

350 at Meeting.

About 350 officers and business representatives of Teamster locals in Missouri, Kansas and southern Illinois attended the meeting. It was one of a series that has been held by Hoffa and Harold J. Gibbons, president of Teamsters Joint Council 13 here, throughout the 12-state Central Conference of the union.

The resolution adopted here is similar to motions adopted at each of the previous regional meetings, Hoffa said. He said policies supported include the Teamsters' demand for autonomy within the AFL-CIO and the right to enforce its own constitution "as these policies relate to attacks being made on us by the Senate rackets committee and some officials of the AFL-CIO."

Yesterday's meeting was closed to reporters but Hoffa, who is under indictment on a bribery charge, said afterward he told the local representatives that Reuther has launched a "premeditated attack" on the Teamsters. Reuther said recently he is ready to work for formation of a new truck drivers' union if the Teamsters organization is expelled by the AFL-CIO.

Says He Can't Do It.

"He'll never see the day he can take over the Teamsters," Hoffa declared. He said that 20 years ago other union leaders were attacked by Reuther, who at that time accused them of using Communist-front organization in operating their unions.

"Reuther," said the fiery little Teamster official, "didn't advocate a merger of the AFL and CIO until skilled autombile workers started moving in the AFL. He talked merger only when he was fearful of going out of business."

Both Hoffa and Gibbons challenged the validity of the hearing to be held Monday in Washington by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee on charges that the Teamsters are dominated by corrupt influences.

"The committee cannot try a Teamster official," Hoffa asserted. "A Teamster official can be tried only under the Teamsters' constitution."

'We Won't Close Shop.'

In an apparent response to Reuther's expressed willingness to assist in forming a new truckers' union if the Teamsters are ousted from the parent labor organization, Hoffa said: "We don't want to leave the AFL-CIO voluntarily.

"But if we are forced out, [illegible] won't close shop."

In Detroit, a spokesman for the United Auto Workers said Hoffa's charge that Reuther or the UAW is trying to take over the Teamsters is completely without foundation.

Hoffa expressed dissatisfaction with a no-raiding agreement adopted by the AFL-CIO. "It is a deliberate attempt to take away some of the jurisdiction of the Teamsters," he said.

Hoffa was sharply critical of the procedures and witnesses of the Senate committee. "It has no right to ridicule a man who exercises his constitutional rights," he declared. Hoffa is charged with seeking to bribe a committee employe to inform him of its plans and activities.

The Beck Indictment.

Referring to the indictment Thursday of Dave Beck, Teamsters president, on a charge of income tax evasion, Hoffa said tersely: "I think no more of that than if a General Motors executive is indicted for the same thing. Does GM fire him the next day?" Beck was suspended recently as a vice president and member of the executive council of the AFL-CIO.

Gibbons, who is secretary-treasurer of the Central Conference, also addressed yesterday's meeting. Hoffa is chairman of the conference.

CIRCUIT JUDGE HOLDS UP EXTRADITION OF SCOTT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, May 4 — Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan refused yesterday to approve extradition of L. Ewing Scott, former St. Louisan, to California to face charges of murder, grand theft and forgery.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams had signed an extradition order, but Judge Culehan, who had decided that an earlier one was improperly drawn, postponed a hearing again, until next Wednesday.

He thereby placed the case in the hands of federal authorities, for a hearing is scheduled for Tuesday on a federal fugitive warrant. "They started it," he said. "Let them finish it."

Scott is accused of killing his wife two years ago. He was a fugitive for 11 months before his arrest recently at the Canadian border here.

ARSON WARRANT REFUSED IN FIRE AT AUTO CONCERN

A warrant sought by police accusing Herbert Slay of arson in a fire Thursday night at the Missouri Automobile Brokerage Co., 4642 Easton avenue, was refused yesterday by the circuit attorney's office because of insufficient evidence.

Slay, the owner of the firm, denied setting the fire, which caused damage estimated at $3000. He was standing outside the building when police and firemen arrived. A representative of the sheriff, who had been detailed to guard assets of the firm, which was to be sold at a sheriff's sale, had momentarily left its premises.

Slay, a Negro, lives in the 4200 (west) block of Cote Brilliante avenue. The firm, which has been in financial difficulties, does automobile body repair work.

3-YEAR PACT WITH HAULERS APPROVED BY TEAMSTERS

Members of Teamsters Local 682 have approved a new three-year agreement with heavy haulers and fleet truck owners, which provides for a wage increase of 50 cents an hour, Rudy Palada, union business agent, announced today.

The increase, in stages, will result in a uniform rate of $2.80 an hour by May 1, 1959, it was stated. Members of Local 682 have also approved wage agreements with the Associated General Contractors and the St. Louis Material Association, and will vote this week on a proposed agreement with the Home Builders Association. Negotiations are in progress with a committee representing 48 lumber yards.

'ORANGE' LIGHT WAS REALLY RED, DRIVER PUNISHED

Edward B. Mooney, a Florissant bricklayer, who saw orange when he should have seen red, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 yesterday by Magistrate Joseph W. Murphy at Clayton on a charge of going through a red traffic signal last April 5.

The night Mooney was arrested, he conducted a polite discussion on color graduations with Sgt. Stewart Ducey at Banshee road and Lindbergh boulevard. He claimed the light was orange. He didn't know what to do, so he went through it, he told the officer.

Yesterday he agreed to plead guilty if a drinking charge were stricken from the over-all charge. Magistrate Murphy explained there was no drinking charge connected with it. He held up a yellow book and asked Mooney to state its color. Mooney acknowledged it was yellow.

"You're not color-blind," Murphy said. He then assessed the fine and sentence, but suspended the sentence and placed Mooney on a two-year parole and suspended his driver's license for three months.

MAN ACCUSED OF ROBBING BANK AT HOLLY GROVE, ARK.

A burglary warrant was issued yesterday at Clarendon, Ark., against Edward Oliver, of St. Louis, who, authorities said, admitted participation in three bank burglaries.

Oliver, a Negro, was charged with the burglary of the Bank of Holly Grove, Ark., last Monday night. Loot included $50 in bank money and an undetermined sum from individual safety deposit boxes. St. Louis police were asked to search for a second Negro, who was reported to have boarded a bus with the bulk of the loot. Oliver, 40 years old, gave an address in the 2800 block of Belt avenue.

Prosecuting Attorney W. M. Lee, who issued the warrant said Oliver will be charged in the burglary at the Trust Company of DeValls Bluff, April 13, in which $1500 was taken. Lee said the prisoner also admitted taking part in a burglary April 5 of the Bank of Weiner, where $1678 was stolen from the vault.

WARRANT AGAINST SUSPECT IN SHOOTING IS REFUSED

A warrant against Joseph Anthony Brennan, an ex-convict, in the shooting of Carl C. McClanahan, Negro, was refused yesterday by Assistant Circuit Attorney Norman Zaltsman because of insufficient evidence.

McClanahan was shot in the doorway of his home, 5335 Patton avenue, last April 29 and identified Brennan as the man who shot him. Zaltsman said he did not consider McClanahan a very reliable witness and there was no corroborative evidence. McClanahan admitted to police he was a "car-a-day" automobile thief.

LAWYERS GROUP HONORS ORVILLE W. RICHARDSON

Orville W. Richardson, attorney, received the annual Award of Honor of the Lawyers Association of St. Louis last night at a dinner at Hotel Chase attended by 487 persons.

The award is given each year to a member of the bar "whose attainments" as a lawyer and whose record of honorable service to the profession and whose career as a citizen merit such recognition."

Richardson, who lives at 8141 Gannon avenue, University City, is a former associate city counselor and served on the state's board of law examiners from 1951 to 1956. He has practiced law here since 1934 and is a member of the firm of Hullverson, Richardson, Hullverson and Jeans. The principal speaker at last night's testimonial dinner was United States District Judge Randolph H. Weber.

RED-HAIRED YOUTH LINKED TO 2 DRUG STORE HOLDUPS

Two drug store holdups last night apparently were committed by a red-haired youth, who was accompanied by a companion in the second robbery.

Clarence Schroeter and his son, George, were in their drug store, 3134 South Seventh street, at 8:25 p.m. when a youth with long red hair entered and asked for cigarettes. He then drew a revolver, took $68 from the cash register and fled.

About 15 minutes later the youth and a companion held up four persons in the drug store of Karl E. Mansfield, 2734 McNair avenue. They took $35 and a watch from Mansfield and a purse containing $2.60 from Mrs. Loretta Rivituso, 2632 McNair avenue, a customer.

WASHINGTON U. STUDENT PAPER WINS TOP AWARD

Student Life, campus publication of Washington University, was named top-ranking paper among Missouri four-year colleges with more than 1000 enrollment at the Missouri College Newspaper Association luncheon yesterday at Columbia.

Lindenwood College's Lindenwood Bark won top rank for smaller four-year schools and the Stephens College Stephens Life took high rating in the junior college division. The awards were announced in connection with Journalism Week at the University of Missouri.

COLLECTOR ROBBED OF $100

Ben Wishnuff, an insurance collector, was threatened with a knife and robbed of $100 by two men in the 2600 block of Madison street yesterday afternoon, he told police.

Wishnuff, who lives at 5935 Kingsbury avenue, said the men seized him, and one displayed the knife. The robbers, Negroes, fled on foot.

CAR HITS PARKED TRUCK, YOUTH IS FATALLY HURT

Driver Is Booked on 2 Charges — East St. Louisan Struck, Killed by Auto.

William D. Files, 18 years old, was injured fatally last night when an automobile in which he was riding struck a parked truck in the 1200 block of South Seventh street.

Files, who lived at 1723 South Eighth street with his mother, Mrs. Pearl Files, died at City Hospital of skull and internal injuries several hours after the crash.

Police booked the driver, William H. Tucker, 30-year-old laborer, suspected of careless driving and driving when intoxicated. He refused to take an intoximeter test, police said. Tucker, who lives at 1341 South Broadway, said he was blinded by approaching headlights. He suffered only bruises.

Ira L. Miller, 717 St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis, was killed early today when he was struck by an automobile on Collinsville road, east of East St. Louis.

Roger Parker, 514 Oak street, Webster Groves, told police Miller walked into the path of his automobile and he was unable to avoid striking him. Parker was driving east in the 8000 block of Collinsville road. Miller was 42 years old.

Lawrence Montgomery, a laborer, 3285 Gustine avenue, was struck by an automobile, the driver of which failed to stop. Witnesses told police the machine was speeding west in the 3300 block of Delmar boulevard when Montgomery was hit. Montgomery, 46 years old, is in City Hospital.

TRUMAN BIRTHPLACE GIVEN TO MISSOURI FOR SHRINE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 4 (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman's birthplace at Lamar, Mo., was officially turned over to the state of Missouri yesterday by the United Automobile Workers Union.

It will be restored by the state park board and offered as a tourist attraction and shrine to the former president. Bought by the international union and the UAW officer councils of St. Louis and Kansas City for $6000, the six-room, two-story corner house was officially given to the state by John E. Rickenbaugh, Kansas City UAW international representative.

Gov. James T. Blair, who accepted the deed, said "Missouri is proud of former President Truman and his record, and happy to have a hand in building this memorial."

COMMANDER OF AMVETS PAYS VISIT TO ST. LOUIS

Dominick L. Strada of West New York, N.J., national Amvets commander, was in St. Louis today as part of a tour of the country. It was his first visit to Missouri since he took office last September.

His itinerary here included visits to John J. Cochran and Jefferson Barracks veterans hospitals and to Amvets post in the St. Louis area. Tomorrow he will visit posts of the veteran organization in outlying Missouri towns, then will to to Illinois for a similar tour.

Trapped Miner Rescued.

CALTANISETTA, Sicily, May 4 (UP)—Workers broke through a 26-foot wall today and rescued an injured miner buried in a surphur mine cave-in yesterday. Four other miners were still buried 650 feet underground. Twenty-eight men were caught in the cave-in. Twenty-three were dug out quickly.

BOYS HELD AFTER KIDNAPING CHILD UNINTENTIONALLY

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May (AP) —Shivering cold and hungry, tow teenagers sought for automobile theft and the unintended abduction of a small boy werec aught early today as they stood on a railroad track.

They had eluded scores of officers and farmers all night after abandoning both the automobile they took in Kansas City, Kan., yesterday afternoon and the 2½-year-old boy who was asleep on the rear seat.

The child, recovered unharmed later from a second car where he had been placed, was Jimmy Doe Draves, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Draves. Draves is general manager of a Kansas City (Kan.) automobile agency.

Sgt. W. E. Wilson of the Missouri highway patrol said the boys identified themselves as both of Kansas City, Kan. They were taken to the Buchanan county jail here and held for juvenile authorities.

They told a reporter they took the Draves car for a joyride and intended to drive it until it ran out of gasoline. They said they were unaware that the baby was in it.

UAW SUSPENDS 8 OFFICERS IN PEORIA OVER ELECTION

PEORIA, Ill., May 4 (AP)—The United Auto Workers international union yesterday suspended eight of the 10 officers in the union's Peoria local, including President Dean Turner.

The action was announced by Robert Johnson of Chicago, director of region 4, UAW, who said the union's international executive board ordered the suspensions.

Johnson said the officers were removed because: They showed contempt of the international executive board and the UAW convention in failing to postpone an election scheduled for next Tuesday, and they violated the union constitution by seeking a federal court injunction which would have prevented the international from intervening in the scheduled election."

DESIRE TO LIMIT FAMILY RULED OUT AS DIVORCE CAUSE

LONDON, May 4 (UP)—A divorce court judge has ruled that a man is not entitled to leave his wife just because she does not want to have any more children.

Testimony showed that William Wilkinson Whitehead wanted three children but his wife Mary wanted to stop at the two they had.

To allow a man to leave his wife because she refuses to have more children "is reducing marriage to an absurdity," Justice Lord Merriman said.

"If it were a legitimate step to take, where is it to stop, the scriptural quiverful, which I believe is three, or does it stop at four or five?" the judge asked.

He reversed the decision of a lower court that Whitehead had the right to abandon his wife.

MASS BY POLISH CARDINAL IN ANCIENT MONASTERY

CZESTOCHOWA, Poland, May 4 (UP)—The pomp and ceremony of pre-war Poland returned to this city yesterday when Cardinal Stefan Wyszinski celebrated mass in this city's ancient monastery.

May 3 is the anniversary of the siege of the monastery by the invading Swedish army 300 years ago and also the anniversary of the proclamation of Polish independence in 1791.

Some 25,000 persons, mostly older peasants, crowded outside the monastery to greet the Cardinal yesterday. It was one of his first appearances outside Warsaw since the government of Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka freed him from house arrest last fall.

SEGREGATED HOUSING DISCUSSED ON KETC

Most of Participants Criticize Realty Dealers and Newspapers.

Racial segregation in housing was the subject of educational television station KETC's "free assembly" meeting last night. The meeting was one of a series sponsored by the Bar Association of St. Louis through a Fund for the Republic grant. Most of the participants in the program criticized real estate dealers and the newspapers.

Participants appeared to be about equally divided between Negro and white persons, all volunteers. At one time, Ran Lincoln, the chairman, had to threaten to have a man removed if he did not stop interrupting other speakers.

Objecting to the actions of some real estate dealers, a white man who said he represented the Chouteau-Lindell Improvement Association declared: "They try to get one colored family in a block and then advertise the rest of the property as 'available for colored.'"

Some of the speakers objected to the practice of newspapers in listing property under segregated headings, saying this intensified the problem of integration, but a white man asserted: "I'm not going to move into a colored neighborhood, or a mixed neighborhood, and I want my newspaper to tell me when it's this kind of property."

A Negro real estate dealer said: "It won't do any good to eliminate these listings if the people in certain neighborhoods continue to band together to keep the Negro out."

'HADACOL KING' INDICTED AS INCOME TAX EVADER

NEW ORLEANS, May 4 (UP)—A United States grand jury yesterday indicated former State Senator Dudley J. Le Blanc, the "Hadacol King," on a charge of income tax evasion.

Le Blanc, who sold the Hadacol company after he made the patent medicine nationally famous, was charged with evading payment of $58,000 in taxes.

The indictment said Le Blanc filed a "false and fraudulent" income tax return on May 16, 1951, for the Le Blanc corporation which manufactured Hadacol.

STRIKE INJUNCTION EXTENDED

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (AP)—A temporary injunction to avert a threatened strike of 20,000 non-operating employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad has been extended for 10 days.

The ruling was made yesterday by United States District Judge John W. Lord Jr., although a spokesman for the Transport Workers Union said all plans for the strike had been called off.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Makarios and Harriman

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In our press and magazines much was written about the invitation to Archbishop Makarios by Gov. Harriman of New York.

History is repeating itself. President Monroe had a doctrine on noninterference in European affairs. But his conscience would not permit him to disregard the principle of liberty. Thus President Monroe spoke against his own doctrine in Congress, supporting Greece's struggle for freedom from Turkish domination in 1823. Of course the Turkish Empire did not like it, as the Turks do not today.

Today Cypriots are fighting for the principle of government by consent, as they did during the Greek Revolution. But unfortunately the island did not leave Turkish hands until 1878 when Britain took over. From that day the Cypriots hoped for freedom, and they have been striving for enosis peacefully since then.

England's stubborn policy resulted in violence. Archbishop Makarios is the elected Cypriot leader, representing the spirit of freedom. Gov. Harriman, as an American citizen, has the right to his opinion. His courtesy characterizes the true spirit of America, as a true believer in the concepts of freedom, justice and basic human rights.

Unfortunately, propagandists in Turkey and Britain have developed a sensitivity to the principles Makarios represents, and have tried by their storm of protests to make the kind gesture of Gov. Harriman appear as an international crisis.

If the United States's ideal of freedom varies from that of Turkey and if some British officials are stubborn in giving to the mature people of Cyprus what inherently is theirs, it is not America's fault if misunderstandings result.

N. MATSAKIS.

Seconding Fred Saigh

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I hope each reader of the Post-Dispatch read the most interesting letter of Fred Saigh in your Mirror of Public Opinion.

He correctly says we must take the trouble to explain our motives to our neighbors in South America. He points out that when people lose hope of a better way of life, they turn to Communism.

NOAH D. ALPER.

Anti-Truck, He Says

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your recent editorial, "With No Brakes," demonstrated once again either ignorance of the facts or a willingness to disregard them.

In discussing the truck bill, you say that the State Senators refused to consider the amendment to increase truck fees. Don't you know that the Missouri Constitution prohibits any amendment to a bill that is not listed in the title of the bill as one of its purposes?

Don't you know that the registration fees in Missouri are already 48 per cent higher than the United States average for all states?

You say that over-the-road trucks do not pay their share of the cost of construction and maintenance of highways, and you base your statement on a preliminary draft of a report that the author has admitted was inaccurate in several major points, and the reliability of which was so questionable that both the Chief Engineer and the Highway Commission refused to publish the study.

Why not take off the mask, Post-Dispatch? Your anti-truck bias is showing.

DONALD DRANE.
Kirkwood.

Rep. Cannon and the P.O.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It was comical to read Representative Clarence Cannon's comments on the Post Office Department at the time of the mail slow-down. It would be interesting to know how much of the Post Office expenditures go into the handling of Representative Cannon's mail—and of his colleagues'.

JOHN J. MILLIUS.

A Voter Against Junkets

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The Congress screams its little head off for "economy"—and votes for "foreign aid." And Congress is going to keep right on giving away the taxpayers' money, for just as long as it does all members of Congress can go on nice vacation trips abroad whenever they feel like going.

All expenses are paid and they can get all the "spending money" they want out of the "counterpart funds" in any country they visit. Now that our Administration is trying to give away money in Africa we may expect to see our Senators and Representatives flying to the "Dark Continent" as well. The entire family can, and often does, go along. Why not? It doesn't cost a dime!

But just you ask this same Congress to appropriate a few dollars for the benefit of our own disabled, or handicapped, or aged, or blind, and see what happens to you! You'll need your ear-muffs! They will yell about "economy" until they waken people as far away as Tokyo. "We simply must cut down on unnecessary spending. The defense program will be endangered. Communism would be encouraged. It might even interfere with foreign aid program!"

And if it did—well! No more nice, cushy, expense-paid jaunts abroad for Congressmen! They would dig into their own pockets like ordinary taxpayers have to do.

JOHN M. FISHELL.

Hocus-Pocus on Rights

As the Senate gets ready for a struggle over the Administration's civil rights legislation, Southern Democrats are resorting to a classic strategy. They hope to weigh the bill down with so many objectionable amendments that even Senators who want to protect the Negro's right to vote—the chief purpose of the bill—will hesitate to support this measure.

The two most prominent amendments proposed are those by Senator McClellan, who seeks a clause guaranteeing "the right to work," and by Senator Ervin of North Carolina, who would protect "the right to a jury trial."

Both phrases call for translation. What Senator McClellan really means by "the right to work" is the "open shop." What Senator Ervin really means by "the right to a jury trial" is "assurance that Southerners will not be punished for depriving Negroes of the right to vote."

Senator Ervin's proposal is by far the more serious, because trial by jury is a sacred cause to Americans. It is true that the Administration's civil rights bill would rely for enforcement on procedure which does not require jury trials. The bill empowers the Attorney General to file civil suits to restrain acts calculated to deprive citizens of their civil rights—chiefly, in this case, the right to vote. If the Justice Department proved its case, the court could issue an injunction. If the injunction were violated, the court could cite the offender for contempt, and conduct his trial without a jury.

The practical reason for adopting this procedure is plain, Ever since reconstruction days, Southern juries have been nullifying the civil rights statutes by acquitting defendants prosecuted under them. If the right to vote is to be made effective throughout the South, it will have to be enforced without juries.

But this does not mean that enforcement will be any the less just or legal. As Time magazine points out:

> The contempt citation is the judiciary's historic enforcement tool. Jury trials in contempt cases have absolutely no basis in equity or constitutional law and precious little legislative sanction.
> As early as 1894, the Supreme Court wrote: "Surely it cannot be supposed that the question of contempt of the authority of a court of the United States, committed by a disobedience of its orders, is triable, of right, by a jury." North Carolina Supreme Court Judge Ervin himself on four occasions upheld the right of the courts to try for contempt—without juries.

If the law provided that one man's right to vote is unenforceable because of another man's right to a jury trial, then something would be wrong with the law. Fortunately this is not the case. Neither right, in the basic sense, need be impaired by enforcing the other. And it is long past time that the United States began enforcing, everywhere in its jurisdiction, the fundamental and unalienable democratic right to vote.

Rawest Yet

The salary-rise racket being run in the Missouri Legislature for the benefit of eligible members of the St. Louis Democratic City Committee has reached its lowest stage. Ignoring the spirit of the Constitutional prohibition against raising the salary of an elective officer during his term, the Senate has cooked up a scheme under which Sheriff Martin L. Tozer, Democratic boss of the Twenty-sixth Ward, would get a $2500-a-year increase this year.

To get around the Constitutional bar, additional duties had to be prescribed for Mr. Tozer, and they are dandies. At the urging of State Senator William E. Hilsman, Democratic committeeman in the Twenty-eighth Ward, the Sheriff was given the extra job of investigating applicants for jobs in his own office and in the circuit courts.

This is utter nonsense. If the Sheriff doesn't examine the qualifications of his own deputies now, how does he choose them? By rolling dice?

If the Sheriff's office deserves more pay, the increase should be based on a real showing of need, and it should be effective at the end of Mr. Tozer's current term. Mr. Tozer knew what the job paid when he ran for it. This is a bill that should be buried in the House.

Based on Recent History

Two related bills with a wealth of sorry experience to justify them have come to the floor of the Illinois Senate.

One is a conflict of interest statute. This was prompted by charges against State Representative Charles W. Clabaugh, Champaign Republican, whose weather strip company is alleged to have made profits out of contracts on state buildings. And the other bill would require registration and reports from all lobbyists who spend more than $5000 during a legislative session. The Hodge scandals alone should have proved the need for public reports on lobbying activities.

State after state—and that includes Missouri—has found it difficult to regulate lobbying or to prevent the pursuit of personal gain from official position. Often the two go together. Many legislators have not tried very hard to control either. But the Illinois Senate needs no research at all to determine the need for the two bills now before it.

We are glad to know that Secretary Dulles is saving the taxpayers money by striking out unnecessary words in State Department cables. Words, we hope, like "massive retaliation."

A Smell of Politics

Chief Magistrate W. S. Diuguid says the St. Louis Bar Association made "an unnecessary blunder" in suggesting that the city's 10 magistrates didn't do sufficient work to justify a pay rise. If anybody blundered it was Magistrate Diuguid by engaging in a controversy that conveniently calls attention to the condition of the Magistrate courts.

The first mark of these courts is that they smell of politics. At last report, at least three of the 10 magistrates were Democratic city committee members, one was a member of the Republican committee, two furnished jobs to Democratic committeewomen, and the Chief Clerk was former Sheriff John F. Dougherty. More than half the constables are Democratic committeemen.

The second mark of these courts is that they are on holiday a good deal of the time. The Bar Association's executive committee reported the magistrates observed 121 holidays in 1956, leaving 245 days for court, although the magistrates held court only on an average of 205 days.

The third mark of these courts is that they are the only state courts functioning in St. Louis that are not part of the state's Nonpartisan Court plan. The magistrates and their constables are elected.

If the nonpartisan principle is good for all the other state courts operating in St. Louis, it surely ought to be applied to the Magistrate courts. Evidently this would require amendment of the State Constitution. Maybe the Bar Association ought to see what can be done to achieve such a reform and, in the doing, clear those courts of the smell of politics by prohibiting magistrates from holding party office. They can be magistrates or committeemen—but not both.

What Dave Beck Asked

Dave Beck is going to get the "day in court" he has been demanding ever since he appeared before the McClellan committee and wrapped himself in the Constitution. A federal grand jury at Tacoma has seen to that by voting two indictments against him. One charges income tax evasion; the other alleges he assisted in preparation of a false return for a Teamster unit at Seattle.

Indictments are only charges, and the blustering Teamsters' president must be presumed innocent until the Government proves him guilty. He will enjoy the right to a bill of particulars, to cross-examine his accusers and, when the Government completes its case, to demand a dismissal on the ground of insufficient evidence. He also will enjoy the right to defend himself, or even to sit silently by and not take the stand under the protection against self incrimination guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment, which he invoked more than 100 times before the McClellan committee.

If the Government's case on either charge eventually goes to a jury and the verdict is "Not Guilty" he will be entitled to go free. But an adverse verdict could cost him $20,000 and 10 years away from the creature comforts of the $160,000 home the union bought for him.

Who would occupy the fancy estate in his absence is a question. The logical tenants would seem to be either James R. Hoffa or Frank Brewster, Teamster regional bosses. But Mr. Hoffa is awaiting his day in court on an indictment charging conspiracy and bribery to plant a spy within the McClellan committee, and Mr. Brewster is under investigation by the same grand jury that indicted the boss. It is possible the place may turn out to be something of a white elephant.

School Aid Inches Ahead

Congressional observers who have been saying that Federal aid to education is a dead issue in this session have been given some cause for second thoughts. The House Education and Labor Committee has agreed at least tentatively on a program which would provide two billion dollars for school construction in the next five years.

This is a compromise between the four-year program recommended by President Eisenhower and the more generous six-year plan put forward by liberal Democrats. The former would have provided $1,300,000,000 over-all, and the latter called for a total of $3,600,000,000.

The committee also struck a compromise on how the money would be distributed. It went part of the way with the Democrats by deciding that half of it should go to the states on a school population basis. The other half would be distributed according to a formula indicating the relative need of each state. Requirements of matching state funds were compromised, too, with the maximum federal-state ratio set at 2-to-1.

These decisions may not be ideal. A strong case can be made for distributing all school help strictly according to need. But the exigencies of politics being what they are, an ideal school aid bill probably would be a dead bill.

There are obstacles enough in the way of the new formula.

But if the men on Capitol Hill have given even half an eye to the American educational crisis, they will forget politics and come to the assistance of the nation's hard-pressed schools.

The Case of Kwame Nkrumah

Some years ago a quiet young man named Kwame Nkrumah, from the British Gold Coast, began studies at Lincoln University in Pennsylvania. Today he is the first prime minister of the new African nation of Ghana. The United Negro College Fund can point to many more such examples of men and women rescued from possible oblivion by education in 31 Negro colleges and brought to tasks of leadership. The case of Kwame Nkrumah profits this nation and advancing democracy. And a return investment is certainly due for our Negro colleges until that day when complete desegregation spells equal educational opportunity for all, everywhere.

Press censorship in three Latin American nations shows once more that free newspapers are not shut down primarily because of their ideologies, but simply because they dare to carry on their function, which is to report and to criticize.

The Nation relates that in Chile, President Ibanez's government sent police who destroyed the equipment of the firm which published Ultima Hora, two other newspapers and three magazines. One of the newspapers was Communist; the others were independent but generally left-wing and assuredly critical of the Ibanez conservative regime.

Meanwhile, La Prensa of Lima, Peru, editorially has attacked the "socialist dictatorship" of Bolivia for egging on mobs which destroyed the printing plant of Los Tiempos. It is said that the editor, Demetrio Canelas, was attacked, and then imprisoned. Earlier the Bolivian Government closed La Razon on the pretext that it could not uphold that newspaper's right to publish at the sacrifice of Bolivian lives.

Finally, the Inter-American Press Association has issued a new report on the deplorable situation in Colombia, where the Rojas Pinilla Government has kept El Tiempo closed for some time and has suppressed or intimidated others. Here the issue has not been so much one of ideological extremism as of plain dictatorship bent on holding onto power.

Unfortunately there is a human disposition not to fight for "freedom of the thought I hate," but that is what the Inter American Press Association has to do across the Americas. For the three instances above prove that liberty of the press cannot be protected solely for a political right, left or center; it is indivisible.

Some Run-Aways Were Fun

The pleasure evoked by the account of a run-away in a recent issue of The New Yorker quickly led to qualms of conscience. The horse—probably the only one on Manhattan—stopped as soon as it encountered a red traffic signal. Run-aways generally involved greater damage. So why should we view such an accident with pleasure?

Happily, we now can answer the question—without having sought the help of a psychiatrist. By probing the dustier realms of memory, it was possible to establish that serious run-aways were frightening. We saw no fun in them. Our honor is clear.

But we recall one run-away involving a pie wagon; and we confess that we would have been disappointed if it had been stopped by a red light. It ended only when the wagon turned over, assuring the following youngsters of free pies—all the free pies they could eat.

A Farmer's Need: Mobility Out

The Mirror of Public Opinion

This is one conclusion of prosperous Iowa farmer who foresees tough times ahead for agriculture; government aid should take form of support for livestock income, but all methods have objections to them; as in past, democracy will muddle along.

From 'Farm Trouble,' by Lauren Soth, Editorial Page Editor, The Des Moines Register and Tribune (Princeton University Press)

"What is a farmer going to do in the next 10 years to make a decent living for his family? I'm wondering whether I ought to sell out and do something else?"

A farmer friend of mine was speaking. Jim Adams (as I shall call him here) is a highly successful farmer by anybody's standards. In the 11 years since he came back from the Army, he has greatly improved the 500-acre home farm, the operation of which he took over from his father in 1946. In addition, he has been farming another 300 acres of rented land. He has built up a sizable hog business, feeds a few cattle, and sells a large volume of corn, soybeans and wheat. Jim is the epitome of the well-to-do, progressive Iowa farmer.

Lauren Soth

I must have looked surprised, for he followed his musing question with, "Oh, I probably won't leave. We like the farm; we like to live in the country; we like the associations of our small community; and we're getting along all right. But I sometimes wonder—I wonder if it's fair to the kids. I think farming is in for a tough period, about like my father went through in the '20s—not as bad as in the depression, but pretty rough. Our prices are not going to be favorable. And this drive to increase output, improve efficiency is just working against us."

Production Up and Prices Down

"But you fellows who lead the parade in adopting the new methods, you profit from them," I put in.

"Yes, but only for a little while," Jim went on. "Soon everybody's using the new methods, and production goes up and prices down. Something's wrong when agriculture can't be really profitable without a war."

Jim Adams is not an "average" farmer, if there is such a thing. He is a college graduate and unusually well informed. He is a former United States Department of Agriculture employe.

Jim Adams may be ahead of the majority of Iowa farmers in his thinking. He sees the necessity of a change in emphasis in federal farm programs, from basic crop supports to subsidies on livestock and livestock products. Farmer dissatisfaction generally reflects itself still in a demand for higher price guarantees on corn and other basic crops.

Yet it is significant that the National Farmers Organization, which sprang up in Iowa, Missouri, and adjoining states in 1955, pitched its appeal on a demand for $20 hogs and $30 cattle. This was the first time that a farm protest group put its major emphasis on livestock.

Wartime Subsidies Recalled

I asked Jim Adams what he proposed to do about the grim outlook he foresaw.

"Frankly, I dislike the idea of trying to guarantee livestock prices," he said. "The problems of surpluses in grain are nothing to what they would be if the Government started buying pork and beef to support prices. That's out."

"What about outright subsidies to farmers?" I asked.

"I don't like that, either. At least not subsidies on livestock. I suppose you could have subsidies like those we had during the war—with the packers adding a certain amount onto the farmer's sale check and being reimbursed by the Government. I think that might work out all right from an administrative standpoint. But it would certainly increase the incentives to expand production. That would mean lower market prices, larger subsidies. Ultimately, it would mean quotas on livestock. I don't like that idea. Still, we may have to come to it as the only way of protecting the producer."

"It seems to me that you are saying livestock farmers are in trouble because of production's increasing faster than demand, but you don't see any way out."

"Not quite right," said Jim. "I don't see any easy or wholly palatable way out. But I do see some things that could be done to improve the situation. I think we should try some method of stabilizing livestock producers' returns. We won't know what can be done until we try. Also, we ought to make it easy for people to get into and out of agriculture. It's the difficulty in getting out of farming into something else that keeps farm income low. If more people moved out faster when incomes are dropping, that would help those who move out and those who stay."

Some Progress Being Made

The "farm problem," which really is a whole group of problems, will be with us for a long time to come. In some ways we are making progress. The farm organizations, the Department of Agriculture, and the important leaders on farm affairs in Congress now are all aware of the importance of the poverty sector of agriculture. A start is being made toward bringing technical assistance through the state Extension Services to the poorest farmers in the country.

But so far few steps are being taken to increase the mobility of people out of agriculture. The federal-state employment services do very little to help young farm people to get city jobs. Education in farm areas still is geared heavily to agriculture and does not prepare young people for city work and life.

So far as agricultural production adjustment, price stabilization, and income stabilization for commercial agriculture are concerned, progress has been slight. It is true that we know a great deal about stabilizing supplies and prices of basic crops, as a result of twenty-three years' experience, but the lessons have not been followed in practice. As for the more difficult problems of stabilizing vegetable, fruit, livestock, and livestock product prices, the record is not encouraging.

Farmers and Steel Makers

In a democracy social invention has to proceed slowly. Quick panaceas are viewed with suspicion, and rightly so. Americans want farming to be a healthy industry and a satisfactory way of life. The same amount of skill and productivity ought to command the same income whether in farming or in steel making. But Americans do not want to adopt rigid government controls aimed at achieving this equality if these should mean sacrificing the initiative, the independence, and the freedom of the farm family.

The continued health of a primarily family type agriculture is important to America. A "solution" to the farm income problems which resulted in a factory type farm system would not appeal to many people, farm or nonfarm. On the other hand, a "solution" which froze farming into its present organizational pattern and prevented further progress in farm efficiency would not be in the national interest.

So we will continue to muddle along by compromise, experimentation, and half-measures. This is the way of democracy, and it is the best way.

Effective Reminders

THE CULTURAL HERITAGE OF THE SWEDISH IMMIGRANT: SELECTED REFERENCES, by O. Fritiof Ander. (Augustana Book Concern, Rock Island, Ill., 191 pgs., $3.)

THE JOHN H. HAUBERG HISTORICAL ESSAYS, compiled and edited by O. Fritiof Ander. (Augustana Book Concern, xii, 70 pgs., $2.50.)

At a time when some Americans seem dubious about the contributions which worthy refugees from overseas can make to the life of this country, these two volumes are effective reminders that all we are and all we hope to be in the United States we owe to immigrants and the sons and daughters of immigrants.

Both books are the work of a Middle Western historian, O. Fritiof Ander of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., who himself is evidence of contribution of immigrant lines in the field of historical teaching, research and scholarship.

The first book, the twenty-seventh publication of the Augustana College library, fulfills a request of the Swedish Pioneer Historical Society to attempt a bibliographical path through the vast and rich array of material on the history of Swedish immigrants to New York. With valuable suggestions as to the use of the materials, Dr. Ander takes up and lists background writings, books on the United States for immigrants, guide books, general contributions, church and educational writings, art, music and the theater and newspaper, periodical and archival materials.

The collection of memorial essays is in honor of the late John G. Hauberg, one-time president of the Illinois State Historical Society, who while not a professional historian, made important contributions to history's study and appreciation.

As Dr. Ander says, he made history "a way of life." Contributors, including Merle Curti, Paul M. Angle, Harry E. Pratt, Edward E. Dale, Carl Wittke, Paul W. Gates and Conrad Bergendorf, present such things as Lincoln in the Black Hawk War, pioneer speech, the German '48ers and the logging industry among the Chippewa Indians.

IRVING DILLIARD.

The Salmon's Viewpoint

MIRI, by Peter Sourian. (Pantheon, 219 pgs., $3.50.)

This one of those amoral, first-person novels of adolescent sexual love that French and Italian writers, particularly young ones, do so often (and so well) and American writers so rarely.

It is the first published novel of 24-year-old Peter Sourian, who graduated from an eastern college in 1955 and is now in the army.

The protagonists in this one are Miri, a Greek war-orphan, and her cousin, Lexie, the prodigal son of a rich Greek-American ship-owner. A third character, Josh, a conventional, idealistic-American type, who is Lexie's roommate at college, serves as a catalyst in their affair.

The girl, shy and reserved and apparently innocent, has in fact learned about sex in a sordid relationship with a German officer who saved her from starvation. The boy, brash, arrogant and given to bragging about his sexual exploits, is in fact totally inexperienced.

Once they have become conscious of one another, their fate is sealed, and they maneuver blindly toward it with the tropistic compulsion of salmon fighting their way upstream to their breeding grounds. Told in the first-person from the viewpoint of the three main characters in turn, the story has the fascination for the reader that the salmon's would have if it could be told from the salmon's viewpoint.

The limpid style is right for the type of sensitive, honest adolescents who are supposed to be speaking. Whether this is an effect achieved through craftsmanship or is the natural mode of expression for young Mr. Sourian remains to be seen.

MISSOURI TO JOIN IN RADIATION STUDY

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 4—The State Division of Health will participate in a nationwide radiation surveillance network to provide information in connection with atomic tests, Gov. James T. Blair announced yesterday afternoon.

Blair said a test station on top of the state office building here will be operated by the Division of Health. The station will be one of 40 scattered through the United States.

"From these air radiation and fallout samples it will be possible to calculate the normal or background radiation activity in the air and to note any changes that might occur due to the Nevada atomic tests scheduled to begin about May 15," Blair said.

The station was operated here for a time last year to provide similar information on effects of atomic tests in the Pacific.

"The results of last year's operation indicated no significant increase of background radiation due to the Pacific tests," Blair said, "and it is expected that little increase, if any, will result from the Nevada tests this year."

The network was established through a working agreement between the United States Public Health Service's Bureau of State Services, and the Division of Biology and Medicine of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, in co-operation with State Health Departments.

The tests will start in about three weeks, it was said, and continue until after the atomic tests are completed. Air samples will be sent to a central laboratory for testing.

The Division of Health also will carry on radiation level studies of streams and rivers in Missouri, on a continuing basis, Blair said. The department has purchased radiation detection equipment at a cost of $3000.

These studies are a part of the water pollution control program, it was said. In the event atomic energy industries move into the state the equipment will be used to determine any effects on the radiation levels of streams and rivers.

DRIVE-IN CHURCH TO OPEN MAY 12

A "drive-in" church, first of its kind in St. Louis, will open Sunday, May 12, at Ronnie's Drive-In Theater, Lindbergh boulevard, north of Highway 21.

Concord Trinity Methodist Church, 5275 Lindbergh, sponsors the outdoor worship services. Preparations have been under way for several months, according to the pastor, the Rev. Richard J. Detweiler.

Services will be held every Sunday at 8:30 a.m. The preacher at the opening service will be Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, retired bishop of the Methodist Church, St. Louis area.

The theme of the drive-in church, the Rev. Mr. Detweiler said, is "Come as you are: worship in your car."

"We expect these informal Protestant services to appeal particularly to shut-ins, travelers, vacationers, picnickers, and many other persons, including parents who have Sunday morning baby-sitting problems," he explained.

Guest preachers will be heard at many of the outdoor services, and various choral groups will sing.

The Rev. Mr. Detweiler compared the drive-in church to "the work of missionaries, in that many persons who could not otherwise attend church will be able now to do so."

The early services in the theater will not affect the regular Sunday services in the newly-organized Concord Trinity Church, which has Sunday school at 9:30 and worship services at 10:45 a.m.

WOMEN URGED TO LEAD FIGHT AGAINST EVILS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 4—Protestant church women were called on here this week to fight such evils as bad housing, poor schools and discrimination.

But the fight must be carried out "in a Christian way," said Mrs. Theodore O. Wedel, Washington, D.C., president of United Church Women.

The 350-member U. C. W. Board of Managers held its annual meeting here. Mrs. Oscar G. R. Limberg of Normandy was the Missouri representative. United Church Women is a general department of the National Council of Churches and represents 10,000,000 Protestant women.

"Through our leadership training programs," Mrs. Wedel said, "we are learning to be skilled in human relations, so that we can accept and love people with whom we differ. We are learning to work effectively to change patterns of social life and human relations until they are nearer to what we honestly believe God wants.

"It isn't the World Council or the National Council of Churches, acting on world and national levels, that matters as much as what happens in local communities when people of different churches really put aside their differences and work and witness together. World and national pronouncements will only have practical effect as we do something about them."

"FATHERS AND MOTHERS LOOK AT THEIR JOB"
DR. GEROW, Preaching

CATHEDRAL WILL HAVE FLOWER SERVICE SUNDAY

Christ Church Cathedral, Thirteenth and Locust streets, will hold the annual Flower Services at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Louis M. Hirshson, president of Hobart and William Smith Colleges, Geneva, N.Y.

The annual service was provided for in the will of Henry Shaw, founder of Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden. His will directed that a sermon be given every year "on the wisdom and goodness of God as shown in flowers and fruits and other products of the vegetable kingdom." The first Flower Sermon was preached by Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle in 1890.

The Rev. Dr. Hirshson served as rector of Episcopal Church parishes in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and was dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Hartford, Conn., for 10 years, before becoming president of the colleges at Geneva last July.

165-YEAR-OLD CHURCH PRIZES HISTORIC DATA

The 165-year-old St. Charles Borromeo Church, St. Charles, Mo., which the Jesuits will turn over to diocesan priests Tuesday, cherishes some of the oldest Catholic and secular records in the St. Louis area. These include Eighteenth century documents.

St. Charles parish was founded in 1792. The first baptism was on July 21, 1792, when one Pierre Belland was baptized by the Rev. Joseph Didier. Father Didier was a Benedictine. Jesuit fathers have conducted the parish for more than 130 years.

The present large church was built in 1915-16, and is the fifth church which the parish has had. There are more than 900 Catholic families in the parish. The Rev. James V. Fallon S.J. has been pastor for nine years. He and the five other priests on the staff will be released for other services.

The Rev. Michael P. Owens has been appointed parish priest of St. Charles Church.

The Jesuits are also leaving Sacred Heart Church, Florissant, where the new pastor is the Very Rev. Msgr. Cornelius J. Flavin.

Conference Dates Set.

The St. Louis Annual Conference of the Methodist Church will be held at Centenary Church, Sixteenth and Pine streets, May 21-24. It will be the first conference over which Bishop Eugene M. Frank will preside.

aCalumet Farm entry.

Each horse carries 126 pounds. Gross value $152,050. Net to winner $107,950, second $25,000, third $12,500, fourth $5000.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (UP) — Calumet Farm's Gen. Duke was scratched from the eighty-third Kentucky Derby today, leaving a field of nine three-year-olds for America's racing classic.

Trainer Jimmy Jones took his sore-footed colt onto the track this morning for a final test of the injured foot. The colt failed to pass the test.

After a conference with his father, Ben A. Jones, and owner Mrs. Gene Markey, they decided Gen. Duke was not fit for the race. The other nine horses were in top shape and ready to go.

A bright, clear but chilly afternoon was forecast for the eighty-third running of the $153,000 derby, with Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler favored.

More than 100,000 fans will jam into Churchill Downs for the first of the triple crown classics while millions watch the drama on television or listen on radio.

The withdrawal of Gen. Duke on this chilly day reduced the gross value of the race to $152,050 with a net purse of $107,950 going to the winner. The second horse gets $25,000, the third $12,500 and fourth $5000.

Iron Liege, left to carry Calumet Farm's silks alone in the stable's quest for a sixth triumph in America's racing classic, also was on the track early in the morning. He blew out a quarter mile, going in 24 3-5.

Better Bee and Gallant Man were given brief "pipe-openers" but all the other horses merely were walked for a short time around their barns.

With Gen. Duke out of the race despite Jones' vain attempt to get him ready after the colt came out of Tuesday's Derby Trial with a bruised foot, the mutuel department issued a new line on the race.

Bold Ruler was 8 to 5, Round Table and Gallant Man 4 to 1, Iron Liege 5 to 1, Federal Hill 10 to 1, Mister Jive 15 to 1, Shan Pac and Better Bee 20 to 1 and Indian Creek 30 to 1.

Post time for the golden gallop was set for 4:30 p.m. St. Louis time, with 205 TV stations in this country and 16 in Canada as well as 210 radio stations carrying the show put on by CBS (KWK-TV and KMOX).

Bold Ruler, polished to perfection by Jim Fitzsimmons, was an 7-to-5 favorite to grab the winner's purse of $107,950 and give the 82-year-old trainer his fourth Kentucky Derby victory.

Eddie Arcaro, the winningest Derby rider of them all with five victories, rides Bold Ruler.

Grouped in a tight knot for third choice were Ralph Lowe's second choice were Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, second by a nose to Bold Ruler in the Wood; Kerr Stable's Round Table, record-breaking winner of the Blue Grass Stakes, and Clifford Lussky's Federal Hill, the locally-owned winner of the Derby Trial and a record-breaker in winning the Louisiana Derby.

Willie Shoemaker, who got a first Kentucky Derby victory when he beat Nashua with Swaps, rides Gallant Man while Ralph Neves is up on Round Table. Whistlin' Willie Carstens has Federal Hill.

Rounding out one of the flashiest fields ever assembled for the Kentucky Derby were John L. Appelbaum's Mister Jive with Hedley Woodhouse up; T. Alie Grissom's Shan Pac with J. Ralph Adams up; William S. Miller's Better Bee with Johnny Adams, Ralph's father, riding, and Ada L. Rice's Indian Creek, George Taniguchi up.

Father and Son Rival Jockeys in Derby

—United Press Telephoto.

One of the strangest features of today's Kentucky Derby is the appearance of a father and his son as rival jockeys. JOHNNY ADAMS (left) the father, chats with son JOHN RALPH ADAMS in the jockey room at Churchill Downs. They might have been debating the chances of their respective mounts, dad on Better Bee, and son on Shan Pac. The elder Adams (42 years old) has ridden in seven Derby races, the younger, 23, will be riding his first. Both father and son have ridden at Fairmount track.

McDaniel Pitches for Cards, Craig on Hill for Dodgers

By Jack Rice
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

BROOKLYN, May 4 — Stan Musial, after going hitless in nine times at bat against Brooklyn pitching, singled in the first inning here this afternoon as the Cardinals tried to win the third and deciding game of the series with the Dodgers.

Stan the Man reached second on a wild pitch by Roger Craig but was stranded when Del Ennis was thrown out by Don Zimmer.

Lindy McDaniel, who defeated the Cubs last Sunday, was the Cardinal pitcher, seeking his second victory of the season.

About 12,000 cash customers attended in addition to 8000 children, guests of the Brooklyn management.

The play-by-play:

FIRST INNING — CARDINALS—Blasingame struck out. Kasko flied to Cimoli. Musial singled to right. It was his first hit in the series. Musial went to second on a wild pitch. Zimmer threw out Ennis.

DODGERS — Blasingame tossed out Gilliam. Cimoli flied to B. G. Smith. Snider doubled off the center field wall. Furillo flied to Moon.

SECOND — CARDINALS — Moon went out, Hodges unassisted. Cimoli leaped high against the left field corner wall to take Boyer's fly. Craig tossed out Landrith.

DODGERS—Hodges flied to Moon. Campanella hit into the center field stands for his third home run of the season. Zimmer reached first on Boyer's wide throw. Neal singled to left, sending Zimmer to third, and when Boyer missed Moon's throw for another error, Neal took second. On a squeeze play attempt, Craig missed the ball and Zimmer was an easy tagout for Landrith. Neal went to third. Craig struck out. ONE RUN.

BIRDS SHUT OUT BY DON NEWCOMBE

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BROOKLYN, May 4—The Cardinals were shut out by Don Newcombe, 6-0, in the second game of their series with the Dodgers last night. The game was played at Jersey City. Newcombe yielded only five safeties and not a Redbird reached second base until the eighth inning.

Rookie Tom Cheney was the losing pitcher. He got only one man out in the first inning and three runs were scored against him. Three walks and a single that was allowed to bounce into a triple led to his early exit.

Lloyd Merritt of St. Louis, another recruit looking for a home on the Redbird staff, pitched three and two-thirds innings, giving up four hits and one run. He walked four, one intentionally. A final experiment was the appearance of Vinegar Bend Mizell, used in relief for the first time after 97 voyages as a Cardinal starter.

Mizell in three innings allowed two hits and two runs, one of the tallies being unearned. He walked only one.

Bradley Beats Billikens Twice To Grab Title

PEORIA, Ill., May 4 (UP)—Bradley University clinched the championship of the Eastern Division of the Missouri Valley Conference yesterday with a double win over St. Louis University, 3-1 and 6-1.

Both victories were sparked by third baseman Billy Martin, who hit a home run in each, lifting his team out of a 1-0 deficit—with a two-run homer in the third inning of the first game and a three-run wallop in the fifth of the second game.

Bradley pitching ace Wyman Carey won his fifth straight game of the season by allowing only five hits and striking out 10 men in the first game. But the lefthander gave up his first earned run of the year, a second-inning homer by St. Louis Third Baseman John McCarthy.

Righthander John Burnham was the winning pitcher in the second game which went only seven innings. He allowed four hits and had nine strikeouts.

Bradley has a season record of 10 wins against one loss and is unbeaten in eight conference starts.

A four-run rally in the sixth inning, enabled Carthage, Ill. College to gain a 11-7 victory over Concordia Seminary, while Principal walloped Eden, 12-4, in other college baseball games. Don Paluck's double, singles by Mike Taylor, Tom Lamer and Darrold and an error produced Carthage's four runs. Ty Anderson and Jerry Davison, pitching for Principia, allowed only three hits. Anderson struck out nine in his five innings.

Copper Indian Cahokia Victor At $146 for $2

Doyle Standifer's 4-year-old Copper Indian, out of the money in four previous starts this year, took the lead from Sporty Joe entering the stretch and went on to beat Miss Irine and pay $146.20 for $2 in taking the five-furlong sixth race at Cahokia Downs last night. Last year Copper Indian won three of 18 starts.

Copper Indian, with J. R. Vinson up, ran the distance in 1:01 and paid $41 to place and $26 to show.

Whereas the daily double on Thursday paid $505, last night the Gallant Time-Tiger Kate combination refunded only $17.40 for $2.

A crowd of 4118 wagered $157,553.

Soldan Runner Timed in 9.9 For 100 Yards

By Harold Tuthill

Track enthusiasts who have been looking for somebody to run the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds today could stop their search. For Soldan's Terry Turner last night was clocked in a record-breaking 9.9 in the finals of the annual East St. Louis invitational relays.

Turner lowered the boom on a 10.1 record which was posted in 1952 by Lincoln's Willie Haire and tied last year by Don Herd, then of Washington Tech.

Otherwise, three major meets were pretty much team victories, as Principia Academy, McBride and host East St. Louis carted off the lion's share of honors.

Principia Easy Winner.

Principia overwhelmed a nine-team field at Taylor Field to retain its Class B district championship in convincing fashion with 106 points to 45½ for runner-up Country Day and 42 for Bayless, the third place school. Winners and runners-up or ties will complete in the state Class B meet next week at Columbia.

Only two records were broken in the finals, both by Jim Crafton's Panthers. Benton Greenleaf, beaten in his specialty, the 100, by teammate Richard Overby, retaliated by bettering Overby's 1956 record in the 440. Greenleaf was clocked in 52.1, two tenths of a second faster than the old mark.

The Principia mile relay team of Dave Gibbs, Jerry Grimer, Bud Krogh and Overby, broke last year's mark of 3:42.2 with a time of 3:33.9.

McBride also kept its C.A.C. laurels with 104 points, 69 of them in the senior division. Du Bourg, with 44½ in each class, finished on top in the juniors.

Two Records Fall.

Again only two records fell in the finals. Miler Tom Starnes of McBride, also won the half-mile, his 2:07.2, lopping almost three seconds off the 2:10.1 posted by McBride's Don Mossinghoff in 1955.

Greg Divis, St. Mary's good junior field competitor, threw the shot put 51 feet 1½ inches, one inch farther than his record in the preliminaries Tuesday.

East St. Louis won its meet without taking a first place, scoring 45 points to 40 for runner-up Vashon. Soldan and Granite City each tied for third with 34 as 18 schools figured in the point tabulation.

In addition to Turner's 9.9 hundred, one other mark fell. Freddy Brady of Hadley Tech ran the high hurdles in 14.9 seconds which improved on the 15.2 set by Robert Harrison of Vashon last year.

Machen Defeats Veteran Maxim

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP)—Eddie Machen, a classy athletic specimen, went shopping today for a new opponent in the heavyweight class after scoring his second victory over former lightheavyweight champ Joey Maxim with a unanimous 10-round decision.

Machen, ranked No. 2 nationally, said Maxim "didn't give me any more trouble than last time, but he moved around a lot more. I was hitting him too high. Then too, he's got a good eye and is still pretty fast."

Maxim admitted his younger opponent was pretty good in "tying me up. He's a good puncher. In fact I think he hits harder than Floyd Patterson. And you know I beat Patterson once."

The aging Maxim, now 35, was most effective in the third round when he shot a pair of sizzling rights to Machen's chin.

Machen concentrated his fire on the midsection in the early rounds then switched his attack to the head.

He had Maxim's nose bleeding in the fifth and opened a cut under the former champion's eye in the eighth.

It was the twenty-first straight victory for Machen. Going into last night's scrap, Maxim had fought 111 times. His record now shows 82 victories, 25 defeats, four draws with 21 knockouts.

A crowd of only 3100 showed up for the bout, contributing a gross gate of $11,551. The huge coliseum at the State Fair and Exposition Center seats more than 20,000 for such events.

Maxim weighed 189 pounds, Machen 190¾.

Remember? 5...15...25 YEARS AGO

1952—Cloyd Boyer, ailing-armed Cardinal pitcher, facing a trip to the minors, shut out the Phillies at Sportsmans Park, 3-0.

1942—Gloria Callen, 17-year-old New Yorker, broke Eleanor Holm's 11-year-old record for the 50-yard breast stroke in the national women's swimming meet

1932—Flint Rhem hurled the Cardinals' third straight victory and second successive shutout as Gus Mancuso and Ray Blades homered in a 7-0 victory over Cincinnati here.

Robinson and Edwards Star; Central Wins

By John J. Archibald

A couple of the Central High players who were key members of the national champion Stockham Legion team, Leroy Edwards and Rogers Robinson, were at their best yesterday as they helped the Redwings to a state tournament victory over DeAndreis.

Edwards pitched a six-hitter and Robinson starred at bat in a 5-3 triumph that gave Central a chance to knock off their Legion teammates on the Beaumont team in a district final next week.

After both teams scored a run in the first inning, Central put things on ice with a four-run outburst in the second. Successive singles by Bill Ferie, Jim Macalo and Al Lee brought in one marker. Gary Schnur, another Stockham member, walked to load the bases. Robinson then got his second hit, a single, that scored two more runs. Clean-up hitter Edwards laid down a squeeze bunt that allowed Schnur to score the inning's fourth run.

Central is a three-time winner of the state baseball championship, while Beaumont won the title last spring.

Things got out of hand at Minniewood Park, where St. Francis de Sales and St. John's met in a Catholic League game. After one inning the score was 2-2. In the last of the second De Sales got eight hits, and benefitted by 15 walks and several St. John's errors as they scored 23 runs. De Sales won, 32 to 7, getting only 14 hits.

University City handed Brentwood its first defeat in Suburban League play, 6-4. Tom Sieferman hurled for the Indians. Brentwood committed five errors.

Ritenour remained the only unbeaten Suburban team by drubbing Clayton, 10-1, on a two-hitter by Harry Gurley. Kirkwood topped Webster Groves, 9-7.

Cleveland defeated McKinley, 8-2, in a Public League game, with Bruce Mills yielding five hits. Sumner unloaded on Hadley, 18-3, although Sumner made only nine hits. Vashon won an 8-4 game from Soldan. Beaumont kept its record perfect by beating Roosevelt, 8-3.

White Sox and Braves Off to Fastest Starts

NEW YORK, May 4 (UP)—The Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee Braves are off to their best starts in history and while neither has begun printing World Series tickets yet, both appear to be settling down to a long, cozy stay in first place.

The White Sox reeled off their eleventh victory in 13 games and their fifth in a row by beating Washington, 11-6, yesterday. Best previous start by a White Sox club was 10 out of 13 way back in 1920.

And the Braves made it 12 victories in 14 starts with an 11-inning 8-7 decision over the Pirates last night. Up to now, the best season's start by any Milwaukee club was nine out of 12 last year.

Brooklyn remained two games behind the pace-setting Braves by beating the Cardinals, 6-0, while Cincinnati defeated the Giants, 11-10, and the Phillies handed the Cubs their eighth straight defeat, 9-6.

The Yankees stayed within 2½ games of the first-place White Sox with an 8-5 victory over the Athletics in the American League, while Detroit blanked Boston, 6-0. Inclement weather caused postponement of the Baltimore-Cleveland game.

Doby and Staley Star.

Outfielder Larry Doby and sinker-ball pitcher Gerry Staley were the key cogs in the White Sox triumph over the Senators. Doby drove in four runs with a double, single and infield out, while Staley held Washington to two runs after coming to starter Bob Keegan's rescue in the second.

Bobby Thomson's single with the bases loaded in the eleventh provided the Braves with their victory over the Pirates. Hank Aaron, whose three-run homer highlighted a six-run outburst in the sixth, started the Braves on the road to victory with a triple in the eleventh, and after loser Roy Face loaded the bases with a pair of walks, Thomson singled off Bob Purkey. It marked Face's third setback within a week. Red Murff was the winner although Warren Spahn was rushed in when Pittsburgh threatened in the last of the eleventh.

A three-run homer by pinch hitter Pete Whisenant in the ninth carried the Redlegs to their triumph over the Giants, who had gone ahead 10-8 on Hank Sauer's three-run homer in the sixth. Rookie Pete Burnside was the victim of Whisenant's homer. Gus Bell and Red Schoendienst also hit homers.

Error Helps Yankees.

Trailing by five runs, the Cubs rallied to tie their game with the Phils at 6-6, but relief pitchers Vito Valentinetti and Dick Littlefield each forced in runs with bases-loaded walks in the seventh to give Philadelphia the victory.

Paul Foytack tossed a four-hit shutout at the Red Sox and was aided to his first victory by teammates Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline. Kuenn contributed a two-run triple off loser Frank Sullivan in the fifth inning and Kaline chipped in with three hits as well as four spectacular defensive plays.

NEWSMEN MUST GUARD FREEDOM, SPEAKERS WARN

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 4—Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, told a journalism week audience at the University of Missouri last night that constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and the press "guarantees nothing except in minds of people and their loyalties."

McGill quoted the Russian constitution, which guarantees freedom of speech, press and assembly, including holding of mass meetings, street processions and demonstrations. He cited two other articles in the Soviet constitution guaranteeing inviolability of the person, homes and correspondence.

"Therefore it could be argued that in a strictly legal sense the people of Russia have the same guarantee of freedom of press and speech as we do.

"Here we are up against a fact that nothing is guaranteed except it be guaranteed in minds of people and their loyalties."

McGill and Hollington Tong, ambassador from the Republic of China to the United States, were speakers at the dinner which climaxed journalism week. Tong, a Missouri graduate, called on journalists for more objective reporting which he said required skill and knowledge "because of the fog bank which the Communists have skillfully and expertly spread over the world."

"I detest Communism, but one thing about Communists I must concede. They are past masters at propaganda.

"If there was one important factor in getting for China a bad press in the United States during the last three years of World War II and since, I would attribute it to Communist propaganda. When it became clear that China could not fall and that Japan would not attack Russia following America's entrance into the war, the Communists shifted their propaganda offensive into a smear campaign against China and its leader, Generalissimo Chiang.

"A glaring case in point at the present time is the current agitation to admit Red China to the United Nations and to give it American recognition. This agitation stems directly from Moscow and Peiping. But so skillfully has international Communism planted these ideas in the free world that most of those who now urge such steps would be amazed if told that they were actually serving the Communists."

Tong said that when the history of these times is written, it may be recorded that the final winner was not the nation which was the strongest, but the nation which was most imaginative and unscrupulous in the employment of propaganda.

"The great call in journalism today is for young men and women who are capable of objective reporting," he continued. "The people will make the right decisions, if they have the facts. Communism and other isms stand alert to prevent the people from having access to the truth. They are fouling up the news with 'big lies' and malicious smears. It is up to us of the newspaper profession to defeat them in their attempts."

McGill in his speech recalled being in Austria when the Germans moved in in 1938. "All rights disappeared. None dared protest. In fact, so bad was the economic and political situation that a majority cheered the changes," he said.

"We enjoy a freedom of press, speech and assembly only because and as long as people will it and defend it," he asserted.

The Georgia editor said sometimes he was disturbed by certain plaintiveness on the part of the press—too much of an attitude of saying "Let me alone. I am protected by the Constitution."

He contended that this nation is perhaps the only one that developed social conscience under capitalism.

"The profit dollar is also a public dollar," he said. "Some of us do not like it too well, but we ourselves voted to have laws which would make them so. We are paying for public education, public health, old-age pensions, unemployment insurance, charity hospitals, and aid to crippled children, the blind, tuberculars and mentally ill, and established minimum wage laws—all a part of the social consciousness in our capitalistic system that flourishes and makes greater profits.

"In other parts of the world that is not true; capitalism is ill, or destroyed in many nations and under attack elsewhere."

McGill said there are those of one school of thought who seek to make us adopt totalitarian methods to protect us from totalitarian pressures.

Request for Funds for OSI Withdrawn by Administration

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—The Department of Commerce has withdrawn its plea for money to keep the controversial Office of Strategic Information in business next year, Senator Spessard Holland (Dem.), Florida, said today.

The House recently eliminated the entire $105,100 requested in the budget for that agency for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The OSI, criticized in the House, was termed by Representative Dante B. Fascell (Dem.), Florida, as "an abortive effort to censor non-security information."

OSI was set up to discourage publication of non-secret information which nevertheless might be of value to a potential enemy.

The Commerce Department originally appealed to the Senate Appropriations Committee to restore the House cut. Holland said, however, the department has now withdrawn its plea for restoration at this time.

Holland said George T. Moore, assistant secretary of commerce, told him the Administration is reviewing the need for OSI and if it decides later that the agency should be continued, a supplemental budget request will be made later this year.

Fascell, a member of the House Government Information subcommittee, originally called for abolition of OSI at subcommittee hearings last year. Since then the agency has been under fire by the subcommittee and other members of Congress.

"OSI witnesses were unable to tell the subcommittee what they were doing, what they were supposed to do or what they intended to do," Fascell said. "The agency was an abortive effort to censor non-security information, operating in an aura of complete confusion. OSI officials were unable to disprove charges that they were using the excuse of 'security' for a blanket withholding of information which the public was entitled to have."

On the basis of the information subcommittee's findings, the full House Government Operations Committee last July unanimously recommended that OSI be abolished.

GEN. WHEELER RETURNING AFTER CLEARING SUEZ

CAIRO, May 4 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler left for the United States today expressing confidence that Egypt can and will do a good job operating the Suez canal which he reopened for traffic.

Wheeler is scheduled to arrive in New York Tuesday when he will report to United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

He said he then planned to resume his job as a consultant to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development in Washington.

"Iam certain Egypt is anxious to maintain full normal navigation of the Suez canal," he said before leaving.

Wheeler commanded the U.N. salvage fleet which cleared more than 40 wrecks, sunk during the British-French invasion, out of the canal and put its lighting and shop equipment back in working order.

Shortly before he left, the American freighter Exchange collided head-on with the Panamanian tanker Rio Miera in the approach to the canal at Suez, the southern terminus.

Both ships suffered heavy damage but neither sank and there were no injuries.

PASHA'S DISAPPEARING SONS REPORTED BACK IN PALACE

MARRAKECH, Morocco, May 4 (AP)—The Pasha of Marrakech's five sons, who vanished in mysterious circumstances three days ago, were reported back in the palace of their late father today, under heavy guard.

Government sources have maintained complete silence since issuing a brief communique saying the five Glaoui brothers had been arrested for "anti-nationalist activities."

The five were reliably reported to have been kidnaped from the palace by heavily armed guerrillas of the national liberation army. This apparently caught the central government by surprise. Yet, 36 hours after the mysterious seizure, the government obviously sanctioned the move by accusing the five.

Their father, the once powerful "Lion of the Atlas Mountains" died last year. He had been bitterly despised by Moroccan nationalists because of his support of the French while they ruled Morocco.

THE REAL M'COY TURNS UP AFTER BEING LISTED AS DEAD

YAKIMA, Wash., May 4 (AP)—Jack McCoy had a lively homecoming yesterday. He had been listed officially as dead after a body was found in an irrigation canal a month ago. A friend had reported him missing.

When McCoy—the real McCoy—showed up this week at the Seattle home of a daughter, Mrs. Thereasa Moriarity, the astonished woman blurted: "You're supposed to be dead!"

McCoy explained he merely had spent the winter in southern California. The 74-year-old retired culinary worker asked Dr. Ralph Shirey, Yakima county coroner, to bring him back to life, officially, so he will be able to collect his social security, among other things. Dr. Shirey said an amended death certificate will be filed.

The case left the Yakima county sheriff's office with an unsolved mystery—the identity of the man who was buried as McCoy.

WILDCAT STRIKES CUT OFF CHRYSLER CORP. PRODUCTION

DETROIT, May 4 (AP)—Wildcat walkouts at Chrysler Corp. yesterday shut down production of Plymouth, Dodge and Chrysler automobiles, making idle more than 40,000 workers.

Only De Soto division kept going, but the company said all its major operations in the Detroit area would be closed today until Monday morning. Overtime operations for Saturday were canceled.

The shutdown followed a dispute that flared on the local level over what Pat Caruso, president of Local 212, United Auto Workers, called "job security protection."

A company spokesman said a wildcat walkout of 125 stamping division truck drivers yesterday triggered a chain reaction similar to the truckers' strike that started the shutdowns Thursday.

Gloria Grahame Divorce Suit.

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 4 (AP) — Actress Gloria Grahame filed suit for divorce in superior court yesterday, charging her writer husband, Cy Howard, with extreme mental cruelty.

PHILADELPHIA'S SOLID CITY HALL DEFIES WRECKING

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (AP)—No matter how much Mayor Richardson Dilworth and many other Philadelphians want to see City Hall torn down and replaced by something more esthetic in their eyes, maybe it simply can't be done. The reason: the solid old pile of a building, sprawling over an entire block, defies the wreckers.

The mayor reluctantly gave ground yesterday, telling members of the city council that he will probably have to go along with the findings of his special commission on public buildings, headed by Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, president of the University of Pennsylvania. The Harnwell commission, he said, is now all but convinced that the cost of razing City Hall—the heart's desire of so many—would be prohibitive.

Whatever eventually is decided, the city government must have more space, and the way to get it, as recommended at the moment, is to put up a fine new annex in adjoining Reyburn plaza, an area which is being developed along the lines of New York's Rockefeller Center.

WESTERN EUROPE ASSEMBLY URGES END OF H-TESTS

STRASBOURG, France, May 4 (UP)—Legislators from 15 Western European nations called today for a prompt agreement on the suspension of nuclear tests and atomic disarmament.

The appeal was contained in a resolution adopted by the European Consultative Assembly meeting here. The vote was 85 to 1.

The vote followed a three-hour debate in which speakers from all member countries and parties warned against the hazards of nuclear fallout.

The Assembly urged member governments to appoint "at once" a group of top scientists to report on recent warnings of the threat posed to humanity by continued atomic explosions.

The Assembly resolution expressed "the hope that the atomic powers will reach agreement quickly on the suspension of nuclear tests."

It also urged "that the current negotiations for a comprehensive disarmament agreement including nuclear and thermonuclear weapons and providing watertight measures of policing should be pursued with the utmost vigor."

MISSILE LAUNCHERS TO BE PUT ON TWO NEW CARRIERS

WASHINGTON, May 4 (UP)—The Navy announced plans yesterday to install guided missile launchers on two of its super aircraft carriers.

They are the Kitty Hawk and Constellation, the fifth and sixth of the 60,000-ton Forrestal class ships in the Navy's super carrier program. They are under construction.

The Navy disclosed plans for the guided missile defenses in announcing the award of $23,000,000 worth of contracts to Northern Ordnance Inc., Minneapolis. The company was given a $20,000,000 contract for Terrier anti-aircraft missile launching system to be used in the two carriers and in the new class of guided missile frigates. A $3,000,000 contract called for missile launching equipment for the Navy's first nuclear power guided missile carrier.

The Terrier missile, which has better than 10 miles range, is presently used on two guided missile cruisers, the Boston and Canberra, and has been adapted for ground use by the Marines.

AMERICAN REPORTED HELD ON RED CHINESE ISLAND

HONG KONG, May 4 (UP)—Informed sources said today missing American Donald J. Blackwood is being held on the Communist Chinese island of Lappa in Macao harbor and Macao police have opened negotiations for his return.

Blackwood, his Korean wife and baby disappeared from the Portuguese colony of Macao last Saturday night. The sources said it was not definite whether his wife and baby were with him on Lappa but it was presumed they were.

Blackwood, son of James Blackwood of Hamilton, Wis., stopped with his family in Hong Kong and Macao on his way home to the United States from Seoul. He met his wife while serving with the Air Force in Korea and returned here last year to marry her.

NATO Troops

makes an improvement of East-West relations "difficult."

The continued division of Germany is a threat to world peace. The NATO countries will continue to work for German reunification.

There still are great dangers to peace in the turbulent Middle East. But "certain new elements give promise of limiting the opportunities for Communist expansion and subversion."

Discussion Secret.

The council did not expand on what these "new elements" are. The entire Middle-Eastern discussions of the council were kept secret and the official NATO spokesman said he had been instructed to say nothing about them.

Bonn Foreign Office sources said Adenauer and Dulles planned to discuss these points:

Recent Soviet threats on A-weapons.

Disarmament and German reunification.

German property in the United States confiscated during World War II. This still is a sore spot in relations between the two countries.

Negotiations on a new troop-stationing treaty. The negotiations are deadlocked after two years. The main difficulty is in financial provisions.

Adenauer's scheduled visit to the United States later this month to confer with both Dulles and President Eisenhower.

Greater Munitions Capacity.

By the Associated Press.

Lord Ismay, retiring secretary-general of NATO, declared in a 26-page report that its munitions capacity is five times as great as it was five years ago.

He said, too, that in those years the main effort in arms production has shifted from conventional to "new weapons."

Ismay became secretary-general April 4, 1952, and is due to retire May 15, to be succeeded by Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium.

The secretary-general's report was handed to the press. He also wrote another report, given only to the NATO council members. Its contents were kept secret. The published statement had little to say on controversial issues, but called attention to a certain amount of progress in civil defense planning, while at the same time urging greater emphasis on this aspect of the alliance.

Ismay observed that shortly after he took over his post he conferred with President Eisenhower, then NATO commander, and that the American general "expressed grave anxiety about the lack of NATO preparedness for war in the civilian field."

FRANK COSTELLO'S ASSAILANT HUNTED BY 60 DETECTIVES

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — The assailant who shot and wounded gambler Frank Costello more than 30 hours ago still was at large today despite a search by more than 60 detectives — and possibly other hunters.

Police have voiced concern that "friends" of Costello might get to the man before detectives do.

It was possible that still a third faction was after him—his own underworld associates, angry that he had bungled the job.

The gunman, believed by police to be a professional killer, fled after the shooting Thursday night, possibly believing he had fatally wounded Costello, once known as the "boss of the racketeers."

Blood poured from Costello's head as a single pistol shot hit him from only 10 to 15 feet in the lobby of the Central Park West apartment house where Costello lives. Actually the bullet barely grazed Costello's skull just above the left ear. He went to a hospital for first aid.

The 60 detectives were an unusually large number for a case of its kind.

SECOND PERSON GETS LIFE IN MURDER-ROBBERY CASE

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (UP)—Raymond P. Wilson, 34-year-old former convict from Tulsa, Okla., was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday in the robbery murder of wealthy Mrs. Lulubel Rossman in her apartment July 3, 1955.

Frank Ellsworth, Tampa, Fla., was convicted last October in the death of the 76-year-old Mrs. Rossman, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Two other defendants, Gus de Moss, former Tulsa police radio dispatcher, and Robert Thomas, former Dade county (Fla.) deputy sheriff and one-time Tulsa policeman, are awaiting trial for conspiracy in the killing.

NEW FLORIDA DIVORCE LAW

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 4 (AP)—Florida will go out of the "quickie" divorce business Oct. 1 under terms of a bill signed yesterday by Gov. Leroy Collins.

The law requires six months residence instead of the present 90 days to file for divorce in the state.

Irish to Improve Airport.

DUBLIN (UP)—Finance authorities say the Irish government will spend $3,000,000 to make Shannon airport available for use by the biggest and fastest trans-Atlantic jet planes. New runways will be completed by 1959.

FLORIDA CHURCH TO SET UP SCHOOL FOR WHITES ONLY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 4 (AP)—A school is planned by the Berea Baptist Church to fight integration, its pastor said today.

Dr. R. D. Ingle said the move was the first of its kind in the South and that his congregation had approved it in order to combat any integration of Negro and white students in schools here.

"We believe," Ingle said, "that this integration program is nothing but a Communist plot—it's not right and it's not scriptural."

The church property will be sold, he said, and the money applied to the combination church-school plant.

The cost of about $300,000 will be met through a bond issue that already has been approved, he added.

The church will be adjacent to the school and will have 2100 seats.

Ingle said the school, which will be fully accredited from kindergarten through the twelfth grade, will have 24 rooms and will accommodate 1000 students. Arrangements for the selection of a faculty have not been completed. No date has been set for start of construction. The church has about 2300 members.

as adviser to his son, who then was president of K & L. Levine explained that he was not thoroughly familiar with all K & L transactions at that time, because the Becks were "running the company."

K & L accounts with Anheuser-Busch run "into hundreds of thousands of dollars," Levine said, adding that all accounts with the brewery are now current. He said Budweiser beer is not in a commanding position in the State of Washington, because it is a premium beer, but in Alaska "It's a real big thing."

Beck Jr. has been sought for more than a week by investigators of the Senate Rackets Committee to testify about his father's handling of union funds. Levine has been subpenaed to appear next Tuesday, and Beck Sr., who invoked the Fifth Amendment more than 100 times in his first appearance before the committee, is expected to appear Wednesday to be asked questions concerning companies in which he holds an interest directly or through "fronts."

CAPITAL AIRLINES STRIKE CANCELED, TALKS GO ON

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Capital Airlines and the International Association of Machinists resume their marathon negotiations today after a last-minute order canceling a threatened strike.

The walkout, scheduled for midnight last night, would have halted or seriously curtailed Capital's extensive operations. Pay scales for 2200 mechanics and ground personnel are in dispute. The union is asking for an average 25 cents hourly boost in wage and other benefits. The company has offered an average raise of 18 cents.

The airline serves 78 cities in 16 states east of the Mississippi river.

FIVE 'U.S.-CHIANG SPIES' SENTENCED IN RED CHINA

HONG KONG, May 4 (AP)—A Chinese Communist newspaper said today five United States-Chiang air-dropped espionage agents" were sentenced to long prison terms recently in Sian, capital of Shensi province.

The newspaper said it was charged the five were dropped on the mainland from Formosa to collect information on political, economic and military activities and establish an armed counter-revolution in a plot to overthrow the Red regime.

The paper said the five pleaded guilty and were given sentences ranging from eight to 20 years.

MARIA CALLAS FEE TOO HIGH, VIENNA CONTRACT CANCELED

VIENNA, May 4 (AP)—The Vienna State Opera today canceled a contract for soprano Maria Callas, saying she demanded too much money. Opera spokesmen declined to say how much the singer asked for but Vienna newspapers said it was about $2300 a night.

Herbert von Karajan, director of the State Opera, engaged Italian singer Virginia Zeani for the title role in a performance of "La Traviata" for the Vienna festival.

Opera executives said the amount Miss Callas sought for each performance was "far above any sum ever paid here to a singer."

MOTEL FULL OF DERBY FANS BURNS; NO ONE IS INJURED

SELLERSBURG, Ind., May 4 (UP)—Flames swept through a motel crowded with Kentucky Derby fans.

Although nobody was injured in the blaze yesterday, damage was estimated at up to $150,000. It was believed to have been started by spontaneous combustion.

Firemen from Sellersburg were joined by fighters from nearby Jeffersonville and Clarksville to subdue the flames in the Hollywood Motel. Sellersburg is about two miles north of Louisville.

CHICO MARX SEEKS PENSION

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 4 (AP)—Comedian Chico Marx, eldest brother of the Marx brothers comedy team, filed for social security benefits today.

Marx, 65, said he had been under the impression he was ineligible for the benefits because his earnings totaled more than $1200 a year. He said he learned later that he is eligible for the months in which he earns less than $80, regardless of his total income for a full year.

Democrats

the same meeting, Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts said the Republicans were giving only "grudging recognition" to the problem presented in 19 major areas where he said unemployment is above 5 per cent, despite general national prosperity.

He said the Eisenhower Administration has made only "an inadequate, half-hearted attempt" to combat chronic unemployment.

A scattering of Democratic governors gathered for a party conference preceding a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner here tonight. Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 and 1956 presidential nominee, and Truman were scheduled as feature speakers at the dinner.

Democratic officials hope to raise upward og $150,000 from the dinner, with the proceeds to be applied to reducing the party's deficit. Party Treasurer Matthew McCloskey reported yesterday the deficit had jumped to $660,000. He said state organizations have not been meeting their financial quotas.

The party's National Committee adopted in sessions yesterday a set of rules under which its contriversial Advisory Council—of which Stevenson and Truman are members—will be free to make statements of party policy.

Southern committee members, who resent the council's previous indorsement of civil rights legislation, sought unsuccessfully to strip the council of this power. But the National Committee voted down 65 to 26 a proposal by Denmark Groover Jr., a Georgia member, to make the council's statement subject to review by the full committee.

Vote Largely Sectional.

Butler said this vote was largely on sectional lines, with Connecticut, Delaware and Missouri members joining Southerners in backing Groover's proposal. A Texas member voted against the proposal, he said.

Democratic congressional leaders have made no secret of their coolness toward the 23-member Advisory Council. But Butler said the vote indicated the National Committee wanted the group to have a free hand.

Butler interpreted the vote also as indicating approval of a resolution supporting efforts to pass civil rights legislation. This resolution was passed by the council at a San Francisco meeting in February and subsequently was backed by a voice vote of the full committee.

Although Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, said the civil rights question would be discussed at a meeting tomorrow of the advisory council, Butler said he does not believe "there is any need for further action" on it at this time.

GIBE BY TRUMAN AT EISENHOWER

By EDWARD F. WOODS

A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 4 — Former President Harry S. Truman said today that if he had spent as much time away from his work at the White House when he was President as President Eisenhower has he would have been "fired and boiled in oil."

Truman made the observation in the course of a brisk, 30-minute walk in Washington's 40-degree early morning temperature. For the first time in the memory of reporters who usually accompany the former President on these morning strolls when he is in Washington, he set his course for the White House and walked a full block along Pennsylvania avenue—on the other side of the street from the Executive Mansion.

Glancing across the street at the White House, Truman gestured and said with a grin: "Wonder who lives there."

(President Eisenhower was at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa., for the weekend.)

"Some columnist got up some figures a few days ago about the number of days Presidents in recent years have been away from the White House," Truman went on, "and he put the present occupant third on the list."

Then, the former President, who apparently had done a little research on his own, added: "He failed to put in the trips to Denver. If he had done that the present occupant would have been first on the list."

The columnist put Roosevelt and Truman ahead of Mr. Eisenhower in his absenteeism ratings.

(James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said in reply that "the record" should be studied about days away from the White House.)

Truman said he was not being critical of the "present occupant," though he believed that the presidency of the United States and the responsibilities of the office cannot be passed off to somebody else.

Truman said of Mr. Eisenhower: "The last time he spoke to me was in January 1953 when we were riding from the White House to the Capitol for his inauguration. He asked me, 'Who is responsible for my son being here?' I said, 'I am.' That's the last time I heard anything out of him. But it doesn't bother me. I just don't give a damn any more."

Truman was reluctant to discuss his views on the selection this week of five Senators to fill niches in the Senate's hall of fame. He had suggested 42 Senators for consideration. The committee settled on Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Daniel Webster, Robert M. LaFollette Sr. and Robert A. Taft.

He remarked that before President Andrew Jackson left the White House he was asked if he had left any work undone.

"Old Jackson said he certainly had," Truman said, "that he had intended to shoot Clay and hang Calhoun."

Then he remarked that Daniel Webster "had no more sense of humor than Richard Nixon has."

Emily Post Says:

Upon the death of a friend you should go at once to the house, write "With sympathy" on your card and leave it at the door. Or, you write a letter to the family. In either case you send flowers, addressed to the funeral of (name of the deceased) or to the nearest relative. The latter method is preferable, if the relative is a friend. But the former method is followed if the deceased alone was known to you.

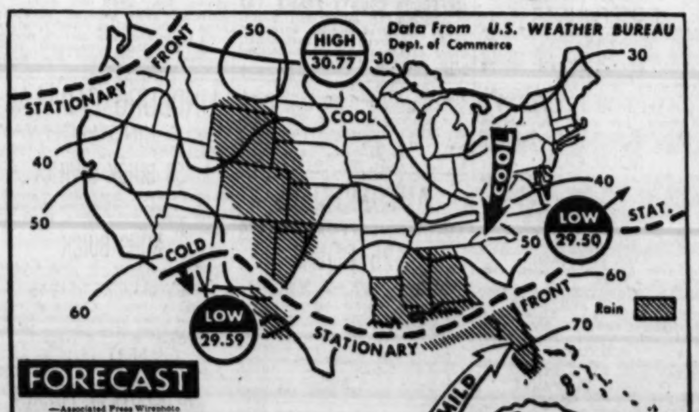
Cool Weekend in Sight



—Associated Press Wirephoto
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Temperatures droped this morning to 36 degrees at the Lambert-St. Louis Field weather station and in the city to 37, only two degrees above the record low set for this date in 1907. The Weather Bureau predicted a cool weekend, but said there should be a gradual warming trend Monday.

A high pressure area centered over Hudson Bay brought cool weather over a wide area of the nation, with minimum temperatures ranging from 18 at Mount Washington, N.H., to 73 at Tampa, Fla. Lows in Missouri varied from 32 at Kirksville to 45 at Poplin.

Yesterday's maximums varied from 41 at Buffalo, N.Y., to 98 at Presidio, Tex., and in Missouri from 62 at the Lambert-St. Louis Field weather station to 75 at West Plains.

Rain fell today over an area from central Texas northward through western Oklahoma, western Kansas and into Nebraska. Showers also were reported in the southeastern states. Heavy falls in the 24 hours ending this morning included 3.62 inches at Montgomery, Ala.; 2.23 at Charleston, S.C.; more than 1.6 at Macon, Ga., and 1.42 at Waco and 1.12 at Wichita Falls, Tex.

EMERGENCY LANDING

An Air Force jet trainer sits in cramped quarters after emergency landing on rural road near Raleigh, N. C., yesterday. The craft, a T-33 from Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base, was set down by Capt. Jack Jeangerard as it ran short of fuel. Neither the pilot nor his student, Lt. James C. Fletcher, was injured.

PORTRAIT IN DISPUTE

Archeologist Sir Mortimer Wheeler examines portrait of Sir Winston Churchill which is being viewed with indignation and displeasure by critics at the Royal Academy's summer exhibition in London. Artist Ruskin Spear refers to the work as "that great big tapioca blob of a head" but defends it by saying he painted a sound—the contemptuous "Narzi" twist Churchill gave to the word Nazi in his World War II speeches.

PRISON PERCH

Prisoner Robert Smith (circle) clings to lofty perch on smokestack scaffold in early stages of sitdown strike at Maryland penitentiary, Baltimore, yesterday. Claiming he was framed when sentenced to life in a criminal assault case 11 years ago, Smith vowed he would not come down until a writ of habeas corpus was notarized. He climbed down early today, cold and hungry after 16 hours aloft and spurred on by a stream of water played on him from a wall 45 feet away.

TETHERED OYSTERS

Oysters attached to nylon lines are lowered into water as planting time comes on Danish oyster farm. Oysters are fixed to the lines with daub of cement, making it easier for farm operators to check on progress of their crop and to harvest those ready for market.

JOHN JAY HOPKINS, INDUSTRIALIST, DIES

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—John Jay Hopkins, described as "one of the great builders" in American industry, died in a hospital last night of cancer. He was 63 years old.

Mr. Hopkins was chairman of the board of General Dynamics Corp., one of the nation's largest industrial complexes which last year had net sales of more than one billion dollars.

Electric Boat Co., one of the divisions of General Dynamics, built the nation's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus. Hopkins himself took an interest in the project, and he actively worked to promote peacetime development of the atom.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, called Hopkins "one of the great builders in the history of American industry, a man of unsurpassed courage and vision."

A native of Santa Ana, Calif., Hopkins attended Occidental College in Los Angeles and the University of California.

After serving in the Navy in World War I, he finished his schooling at Harvard and later practiced law in New York and Los Angeles.

In 1937 he became associated with Electric Boat Co., which ultimately branched out to form General Dynamics. Other operating divisions of the big corporation include Convair, General Atomic, Canadair, Stromberg-Carlson and Electrodynamic.

Contract Bridge

By Sam Fry Jr.

THIS really happened at a New York City bridge club some years ago. It's been in print before but bears repetition as a still timely commentry on the genus bridge player.

The hand was passed out. As the next hand was being dealt one of the players mentioned casually (in retrospect, ominously) "I almost opened that hand with three diamonds." "Hmm," was the equally casual —or ominous—rejoinder from his partner, "if you had I'd have bid three no-trump."

"What do you mean," came back the I-almost-bid-three-diamond fellow, quite a bit less casually and surely more ominously. "You know my three bids are weak and you must leave them alone unless you have a huge hand which you surely couldn't have had since you passed. Why we'd have been doubled and taken a big set."

"Nevertheless," was the annoyed reply, "I'd surely have considered my hand good enough to take a fling at three no-trump. What the heck did you have for your three diamond bid anyway?"

This went on for quite a while. No one picked up his new hand. The argument grew hotter and the vituperation greater, ranging from sputters to shouts and back to sputters again. Finally one of the combatants got up and turned to a kibitzer. "Finish the rubber for me," he said as he stalked off, "I'm not going to play anymore with a stubborn nitwit like him."

All this, mind you, over a passed out hand, and one on which the opponents had the better of the cards besides.

On today's quiz, with answers Monday, you are the dealer and your side has 60 points on score. What do you bid on each of the following hands?

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

A BOY named Don Kolling has sent me a card with these words:

"A friend of mine told me that the pressure at the deepest parts of the ocean is great enough to buoy up rocks. This seems questionable to me. Would you please go into the subject in your column?"

You are right, Don, in calling the statement of your friend "questionable." If, at any time, the ocean can "buoy up" a rock, it is done at the surface rather than deep down.

THERE are small pieces of volcanic rock which will float on the surface. The floating continues until tiny openings in the stone become filled with water.

The pressure problem is different. Many a time it has been suggested that sunken vessels move around at one level, or another, under the ocean surface, and "pressure" has been suggested as the reason. That is a mistake.

More and more pressure exists the farther down we go in the water. It increases because of the weight of the water above the object.

THIS MEANS that the farther down the object is, the greater the pressure from above. If the object was heavy enough to start sinking, it will keep on sinking—unless it breaks into pieces.

If the object does break, certain parts may rise while others keep on sinking. Let us suppose that an open box, made partly of iron and partly of wood, is crushed by pressure deep in the ocean. The wooden parts will rise to the surface, unless they have become "waterlogged" or unless the wood was extremely dense and heavy in the first place. A piece of ironwood will sink if it is tossed on the surface of the sea.

The iron parts of the broken box will keep on going down until they rest on the bottom of the ocean.
